

Arms Talks Stymied At Outset Geneva Parley Is At Usual Impasse

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference was back in its familiar deadlocked rut today after resuming with expressions of hope that nuclear weapons tests would soon be banned. Neither the Western powers nor the Communists showed signs of giving ground on the inspection issue.

After both sides indicated at the reopening of negotiations Monday that the Cuban crisis had created a new sense of urgency for progress in Geneva, their statements on nuclear testing put them once again on a dead-end course.

Reds Willing—Own Terms
Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin expressed his willingness to sign a test-ban agreement, but only on Soviet terms, without any kind of international inspection and supervision demanded by the United States and Britain.

Tsarapkin contended existing national detection systems are adequate to enforce a test ban. He also rejected an American-British proposal for a ban on surface and atmospheric tests—policed only by national detection systems—while experts try to get together on the thorny underground testing problem. He said the Russians want to stop all nuclear tests now, not just some of them.

The usual impasse developed after the conference had heard a message from President Kennedy urging them to give high priority to a test-ban treaty "in view of the crucial developments within recent weeks."

Charges Espionage
Tsarapkin aroused British delegate Joseph B. Godber's protests by repeating an accusation the Soviet side has made for more than a year. He said the two Western powers do not really want a test ban.

"What they want is to gain military information about the Soviet Union, and that is espionage," Tsarapkin said.

Godber retorted, "We have heard enough of this. Let's not talk about espionage any more." The conference is not meeting today. The next session is scheduled for Wednesday morning.

Reserves Receive Kennedy's Praise

Homestead Air Force Base, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy paid tribute Monday to the commanders and planes of Reserve Air Force troop carrier wings recalled to duty during the Cuban crisis.

The President visited this base during a one-day, 2,500-mile tour of military installations in the Southeastern United States. The wings are assigned here to the Tactical Air Command.

Lt. Col. Robert M. Strickland of Beacon, N.Y., told the President that "these wings were urgently required to fulfill the air-lift tasks imposed by the national emergency. Needless to say, they responded without hesitation..."

Checks Right to Take Goods Following Fire

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Do firemen, policemen and other city employees have the right to help themselves to merchandise in a store wrecked by fire if the owner gives them the okay?

Mayor John J. Burns revealed Monday that he had begun an investigation to determine the answer to that question.

He said he had been shocked to learn that between 10 and 15 employees of the fire, police and public works departments had taken rugs and other furnishings from the Mutual Furniture Co., at the invitation of one of the owners, after a fire Nov. 19.

A fire official died in the flames.

Burns said he was looking into the matter to ascertain the value of the goods taken and whether those involved should be disciplined.

The mayor said he did not think a law had been violated. He added, however, that a city regulation forbade city employees to remove from catastrophe sites any items for personal gain.

Burns said Frank Lisick, a deputy commissioner of public works, told him Monday that he had removed a rug and a runner from the store.

Detectives said they found at one dry-cleaning firm 10 rugs that had been sent there by the sister of a patrolman. Rugs from the store also were found at other cleaning establishments, and one cleaner placed the value of the rugs he received at about $1,000.

STUYVESANT STREET BUILDING DAMAGED—The kitchen and contents in the second-floor apartment of Mrs. Lorraine Fisher, 28 Stuyvesant Street, were badly damaged by a fire late Monday afternoon, which also charred the third and fourth floors with intense heat and smoke. Cause of the blaze was listed as unknown. A telephone alarm at 4:14 p. m. was followed by an alarm from Box 3111, Broadway and McEntee Street. Units from Central and Cornell stations, the Wicks and Rapid companies responded with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief George D. Matthews in charge. The building, owned by Charles Pavlidis, proprietor of the Mid-Town Chop House and Restaurant, 666 Broadway, is occupied on the first floor by Mrs. Elizabeth Purdy, on the third by Mrs. Alvina Pavlidis, and the fourth by Mrs. Vincent Lasher. The fire was confined to the point of origin in the second-floor kitchen. The recall was sounded at 5:50 p. m. A call at 5 p. m. while firemen were still at the Stuyvesant Street fire, was for a blaze caused by a frozen brake of a truck near the Kingston Beef Corp., Meadow Street. Damage was confined largely to the brake of the truck, driven by Bruno Mollenhauer, of Saugerties. A unit from Wiltwyck Station was dispatched on the call. Another call at 7:15 p. m. was for a mattress fire in the Alfred Leonardo apartment, 33 Furnace Street, caused, firemen said, by children playing with matches. The bed and bedding were also damaged. A unit from Wiltwyck Station with Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge, responded. (Freeman photo)

Differences Remain Is Outlook on Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said Monday night that sharp differences over Cuba still exist between the United States and the Soviet Union. He indicated there was no softening of Fidel Castro's stand.

The Kremlin troubleshooter talked to newsmen after attending a dinner acting Secretary-General U Thant gave for U.S. and Soviet negotiators on the Cuban crisis. Mikoyan returned to New York Monday after a 24-day visit to Havana.

No Quarrelling: Mikoyan
U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who attended the dinner, said he expects to resume discussions on Cuba Wednesday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov. He said he expected the meeting to be "quite important."

Mikoyan said "very sharp questions" were discussed at the dinner with Stevenson and John J. McCloy, head of President Kennedy's Cuban coordinating committee.

"But there was no quarrelling," the Soviet leader said smilingly. Mikoyan said the possibility of his going to Washington for a meeting with President Kennedy was not discussed. The Soviets earlier were said to have put out

Rochester Drive Started Against Goods From Reds

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A drive was underway today to stop the sale in this area of goods from communist nations.

At a meeting here Monday night of the newly-formed Committee to Protest the Sale of Communist Imports, Mrs. Gertrude Newberry, president of the group, said it was "primarily concerned with stamping out the flow of Red merchandise which is bleeding the nation's economic resources."

"We are not at all sympathetic to, or in agreement with, the State Department's position of encouraging trade with our avowed enemies."

To See Merchants
Mrs. Newberry said the first stage of the committee's drive, beginning today, would be to canvass all area merchants and urge them to stop handling products from Communist nations. She cited Polish hams, Czechoslovakian Christmas ornaments and East German cameras and watches as

State Liquor Authority Head Fired for Not Signing Waiver

NEW YORK (AP)—Martin C. Epstein has been fired as State Liquor Authority chairman for defying Gov. Rockefeller's order to cooperate in a grand jury probe of possible graft and corruption within the authority.

Twice Monday — on his 70th birthday—the ailing Epstein refused to sign a waiver of immunity when he appeared on a stretcher before a Manhattan grand jury. The governor had ordered Epstein to sign the waiver and testify or face dismissal from his $25,000-a-year post.

Epstein was excused from the jury room at 2:35 p. m. after a two-minute appearance. In a letter dated at 3 p. m., Rockefeller notified Epstein he was being fired both as a member of the authority and as its chairman for ignoring the governor's directive.

Rockefeller said he acted under a provision of the State Constitution. The law calls for the removal of state employees who refuse to testify—without immunity from possible prosecution—about matters dealing with official duties.

By signing a waiver of immunity, a witness renounces the guarantees of the U.S. Constitution that no persons is required to be a witness against himself.

Monday, the Liquor Authority fired its senior investigator, Ernest Moss, 39, for his refusal to waive immunity before the grand jury last Tuesday.

Another Liquor Authority investigator, Maurice L. Bernstein, 36, of Levittown, N.Y., has been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury today.

Epstein, a Brooklyn Republican, was appointed by the governor to the five-member SLA in 1959. He became chairman the following year.

The other four commission members—two are Republicans—have pledged to cooperate in the grand jury probe.

Epstein, who suffered from diabetes and a heart condition and whose left leg was amputated recently, reached legal retirement age Monday.

See India Playing For Time Turns Down Red Terms Piecemeal

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India charged today that the Communist Chinese account of the background of the Himalayan border dispute contained in Peking's cease-fire proclamation is a complete travesty of fact.

A statement by a Foreign Ministry spokesman was another in a series of what appeared to be piecemeal rejections of the Red Chinese terms.

More Fighting Due
Expectations of an eventual renewal of the fighting mounted on this sixth day of the cease-fire.

Clarifications of the proclamation requested from Peking have been received and are under study, the spokesman said.

"It is very difficult to say when India will reply," he added.

Informed observers feel India is playing for time to regroup and rebuild its army after the shattered Red Chinese blows in 32 days of combat.

Receiving Help
This rebuilding is under way with U.S. and British help. Large diplomatic-military missions from the two nations have been here for a week, offering advice and drawing up plans for sending more arms to India.

Britain has delivered an estimated 200 or more tons of infantry weapons to India since the Red Chinese offensive of Oct. 20. The United States has sent weapons reported to total 1,000 tons or more, coming under financial terms that remain to be worked out.

Indications Given
Indian leaders gave these indications of impending military action:

President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan declared India would show the world that Chinese "aggression does not pay."

The course may be full of hazards, "offering and sacrifice, but 'however high the price, we are prepared to pay it' he said at a 'banquet Monday night for the visiting West German President Heinrich Lübke."

Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, one of Prime Minister Nehru's closest aides, told a rally: "We have decided to get the aggression vacated and if China does not vacate it peacefully, our forces shall have to fight it out."

Would Use Air Force
Shastri, as quoted by the Hindustan Times, also said that if necessary India would use its air force against the Chinese. India so far has used only transport planes, fearing retaliation against the jam-packed Indian cities.

The Foreign Ministry issued a statement rejecting the key point in Communist China's self-pro

Bowling Lanes Burn Today in Paltz Village

Four fire companies battled flames for hours early today as fire swept through the one-story cinderblock-frame building on North Chestnut Street, New Paltz, which housed the University Lanes, a bowling establishment.

Fire Chief Raymond Morris Jr. of New Paltz, said the interior of the structure, which had 12 bowling alleys, was completely gutted. He said the origin of the blaze was not determined and no estimate of the loss was available.

Fireman Overcome
Fireman Salvatore Fiordino, a New Paltz volunteer, was overcome by heat and smoke. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment. He was expected to be released from the hospital today, fire officials said.

Chief Morris reported the fire apparently had been burning a considerable period of time before it was discovered. New Paltz fire companies were dispatched to the scene at 1:05 a. m., and through mutual aid companies were summoned to assist from Clintondale, Gardiner and Tilton.

The bowling establishment is owned by Preston Bennett. Firemen were at the scene until about 4 a. m.

Folsom Favors Bill

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—A secretary of health, education and welfare under former President Eisenhower says the Kennedy administration-backed King-Anderson bill for medical care to the aged under Social Security is "a logical way of financing care for our elderly citizens."

Speaking Monday night at a local church-group meeting, Marion B. Folsom said the bill was not a step toward socialized medicine.

President Heartened By Troops, Firepower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and the nation's military chiefs returned "heartened and encouraged" after seeing the fighting men and awesome firepower massed in the Southeast facing Cuba.

The White House said this in a statement Monday night following Kennedy's 12-hour flying tour of three key bases—the Army's Ft. Stewart, Ga., Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., and the Navy's air and sea base at Key West, Fla.

Press Views Readiness
For the first time since the Cuban crisis developed five weeks ago, reporters had a chance to see the extent to which U.S. armed might had been mobilized inside these bases.

Among other things, they saw: About 250 powerful rocket-armed jet fighters on alert at Homestead, advance command post for the Cuban operation.

Another 200 jet interceptors, fighters and fighter-bombers in position at Key West, only 90 miles from Cuba.

Element of the 15,561-man 1st Armored Division, the Army's newest, which had moved swiftly by air and from Ft. Hood, Tex., to Ft. Stewart last month when the United States seemed headed for possible use of force against Cuba.

This was only part of the buildup which extended to many other bases in the Southeast.

In brief talks at Ft. Stewart, Homestead and Key West, Kennedy stressed his "great appreciation" and the nation's indebtedness for the contribution made by the combat-ready forces in the period of crisis.

At the Boca Chica Naval Air Station at Key West, the President said:

City Will Host State Pageant Again Next July

The formal signing of the franchise for the 1963 Miss New York State Pageant was recently announced by George H. Moore, president of the pageant board of directors.

The franchise was issued jointly to the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce by the Miss America Pageant, Atlantic City, N. J.

Fifth Year Here
This is the fifth consecutive year the franchise has been awarded to Kingston. The pageant will be held July 4, 5 and 6, 1963. Under the 1963 franchise the pageant will be conducted by a 12-member Board of Directors, six from Kingston area Chamber of Commerce and six from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The other officers of the pageant are Vice Presidents G. A. Visk and Clyde Wonderly; Treasurer, A. Johnson; and Secretary and Franchise Chairman Albert Kurdt. Pageant headquarters are in the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Governor Clinton Hotel.

Brazilian Craft Was U.S.-Bound Castro Adviser On Flight List

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A Brazilian jet airliner, flying toward Los Angeles with 97 persons aboard, was found wrecked 75 miles south of Lima today with no sign of survivors, Peruvian officials reported.

Missing Eight Hours
The Varig Air Lines 707 had disappeared eight hours earlier as it headed for a landing at Lima on a flight that originated at Porto Alegre and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

A search plane said the Boeing plane seemed to be completely destroyed. It was sighted 75 miles south of Lima near the Pan-American Highway.

The plane was bound from Brazil to Los Angeles, with intermediate stops scheduled in Peru, Colombia, Panama and Mexico. Varig said it carried 80 passengers, with 9 of them ticketed for Los Angeles and the remainder for Latin American points.

Had Crew of 17
The $5-million plane carried a crew of 17.

The plane was due to set down at Lima's International Airport about 3:30 a. m. EST.

Authorities said it radioed a normal position report five to seven minutes before the scheduled landing and gave no indication of difficulties. However, Varig offices in Rio de Janeiro and New York said an emergency call had been heard.

Lima airport said the plane apparently was flying at 12,000 feet near the Pacific Coast.

Peruvian air force planes and two helicopters were dispatched to the area. Two Peruvian submarines also were ordered to join the search.

Peruvian Farm Boss Aboard
Among passengers reported by Varig to be aboard were Raul Cepero Bonilla, economic adviser to Fidel Castro and president of the Cuban National Bank; and the Peruvian minister of agriculture, Jesus Melgar, with his wife.

Rocky, Leaders To Meet Friday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and Republican legislative leaders will meet Friday for their first formal conference in preparation for the 1963 session of the Legislature.

The governor will fly to Albany from New York City Thursday. He will have lunch in the Executive Mansion the next day with Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino.

No agenda was announced.

Education Department to Ask $15 Million TV Network to Teach

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Education Department announced today it would ask the Legislature to approve a 15-million plan for a statewide educational-television network.

The recommendation could bring about a resumption of a battle of a decade ago between supporters of privately owned television stations and tax-supported stations.

In that fight, a proposal for a state network was rejected on grounds that included cost and assertions it might be used as an instrument of political propaganda.

The new proposal is contained in a report prepared for the Education Department by Dr. Glenn Starlin, a consultant on television in higher education.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said in releasing details of the Starlin plan that his department "will propose in the near future...an orderly plan for implementing the recommendations of this report."

The report suggested the creation of a State Education Television Board to encourage development of the network and coordinate the statewide activities.

But control over programming and policy of the individual stations would rest with local councils of educators, community leaders and specialists in technical aspects of the educational television.

While some funds for construction and operation would come from such sources as foundations, the public, and other contributors, Starlin said, "there should be an adequate continuing basic support of educational television facilities."

He urged that there be "basic tax support on both the local and state level and that this support be generous enough to permit the development and maintenance of high quality educational television institutions wherever they are to exist in the state."

The final decisions on the state's role in the proposed project will be made by the Legislature and Gov. Rockefeller.

Starlin proposed that the statewide network comprise 31 stations in 27 population centers. These would transmit programs that could be received in homes, as well as in classrooms.

In addition, colleges and universities throughout the state would develop their own systems of closed-circuit television.

Programs would be transmitted only to receivers within the institution. The programs could be taped for later showing over the statewide network.

Allen noted that demands for admission to college were expected to reach their peak in 1964 and 1965.

"It behooves our colleges and universities," he said, "to explore all possible techniques of extending education to larger numbers at lower cost."

Starlin recommended first stations in the network be established to serve the Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Albany-Schenectady - Troy, Poughkeepsie, New York City and Hempstead, L.I., areas.

Educational television stations now operating would be incorporated into the state network.

In the second phase of the five-year development plan, stations would be established at Amsterdam - Gloversville, Binghamton, Corning - Elmira, Jamestown, Poughkeepsie or Riverhead, L.I., Patchogue and Watertown. The final stations would be established at Batavia, Boonville, Lowville, Dunkirk, Glens Falls, Hornell, Ithaca, Lake Placid-Saratoga Lake, Malone, Massena, Ogdensburg, Olean and Oneonta.

Three Defendants Are Sentenced In County Court

Three defendants were sentenced by County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday afternoon in County Court and on motion of District Attorney David W. Corwin four indictments were dismissed. Several other cases were put over to December 17 at 2 p. m. for disposition.

Howard Brown who was charged with attempted burglary, third degree, for an attempt to enter Stone's Liquor Store on August 29, 1962, was given a six months jail sentence and given credit for the 90 days he has spent in jail. Thomas Saccoman appeared for Brown by assignment and said the difficulty arose over drinking. He asked that a plea of attempted unlawful entry be accepted. It was accepted by the Court and district attorney. Brown attempted to break a lock in the downtown liquor store with a cleaver.

Pleads Guilty
George F. Miller, 48, Ellenville, charged with second degree assault at an Ellenville bar, entered a plea of guilty to third degree assault last September 29 when he became engaged in an argument.

John Gotelli appeared for defendant and told the court Miller, who hails from Detroit, committed the crime while drinking at a bar. He cut the complainant with a "dull instrument."

Gotelli said defendant would go back to Detroit and asked for leniency. On consent of District Attorney Corwin, Judge Mino sentenced Miller to 58 days in jail, the time served and gave credit for that time.

Put on Probation

Peter Johnson of 69 Liberty Street, charged with assaulting Florence Peterson with a jack knife last July 1, during an argument, entered a plea of guilty to third degree assault. Charles Saccoman appeared for Johnson and asked the court to extend leniency. Saccoman said the defendant had been steadily employed, had a job now and has always been a law abiding citizen. He also told the court that Johnson had adopted a child and had supported that child for a number of years.

District Attorney Corwin stated that the complainant had had a residence with defendant, was again friendly with defendant and in view of the facts he was "not sure" he would be able to prove the charge of second degree assault and therefore was willing to accept the plea of guilty to third degree assault.

Friendly Again

When Judge Mino asked Johnson if it were true he and the defendant were again friendly after the July first affray, Johnson replied "I have been out with her." Judge Mino then imposed a one year jail sentence and suspended execution of that sentence and placed Johnson on probation for the maximum period.

A grand larceny, Second degree, indictment against Wilhelmine Priemel, Brooklyn was dismissed.

Richard W. Griggs appeared the defendant and told the court the defendant had known the complainant, Hilmer Kuzmierz of Marlboro in Germany. She visited the home here and 117 was reported missing last July 2. She was charged with taking the money. Complainant has asked the matter be dropped and the indictment dismissed. With the consent of District Attorney Corwin the dismissal was granted and bail exonerated.

Two Ellenville defendants who stood charged with taking a car from Charles Hinton on September 26, had the charge of first degree grand larceny dismissed.

when the complainant indicated no desire to further prosecute District Attorney Corwin stated that Robert Regan and Frank Lee Peterson had been charged by the grand jury with taking the car. He said Hinton was an uncle of one of the accused and resided next door. He had allowed the use of the car on prior occasions. On September 26 the car was taken, driven six miles out of town and then returned. He said complainant was reluctant to testify on trial and moved for dismissal of the indictment. Granted.

Charge Dismissed
A charge of petit larceny against John Francis Bohan was dismissed. District Attorney Corwin stated that he had proof the lad was not 16 years of age when the indictment was returned and jurisdiction was in the Family Court.

A second degree charge against Richard John Casey, was moved over to the next term of County Court in January on motion of Francis Martocci, attorney for defendant.

Judge Mino reserved decision on an application by Attorney William A. Kelly to have a first degree robbery charge against Joseph Gordon, 18, Philadelphia, disposed of under the Youthful Offender law. Judge Mino sought a probation report. Adjourned to December 17 at 2 p. m.

In the case of Larry Wanan Speedling, 18, third degree burglary, the case was adjourned on application of S. James Matthews, defense attorney, until an Orange County matter is disposed of.

In the case of Joseph Bodie, 40, Chambers Street, first degree rape, sodomy and violation of Section 1141, Subdivision 1 of the Penal Law, Joseph Avis, attorney for defendant asked for an adjournment for the purpose of having a psychiatric examination. He said he would also move for dismissal of the indictment on the grounds the evidence on which the indictment was procured was illegally obtained.

John Vincent Murray, charged with attempted robbery, first degree, and second degree assault, was arraigned and a plea of innocent entered. Richard W. Griggs appeared for defendant. The case was adjourned to December 17 at 2 p. m.

Clifford Lasher, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry and on motion of his counsel, William Gruner, imposition of sentence was postponed until November 29, at 2 p. m.

Several other cases were adjourned to December 17 at 2 p. m.

Family Welfare Group to Meet

The Evangelical Child and Family Welfare Service, Ulster County Unit, will hold an important meeting Thursday, 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Richard N. Adams, 169 Doris Street, Port Ewen.

The local chapter was formed in November, 1961, and is but one of 38 such units throughout the State of New York. Over 400 women meet regularly, representing over 300 churches, giving prayer and financial support to this ministry which will eventually culminate in the chartering of a multiple child care agency in New York State.

The motto adopted by the interim committee, an affiliate of the National Association of Evangelicals, is "Serving the unloved, unwanted, and uncared for." Members of the local unit urge all women of the Kingston and surrounding areas, who are interested in knowing more about this work, or who desire to have a part in this ministry, to attend the meeting Thursday evening.

Ryerson Not Operator

Michael Reilly Ryerson, 18, Canal Street, Port Ewen, was not operating the car of Albert Munson of Port Ewen, at the time it was involved in an accident early Sunday morning at Eddyville. Webster A. Munson, son of the owner, and Ryerson were at the Dew Drop Inn, Eddyville, where Ryerson had driven the car when the accident occurred. Investigated by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Ahlberg and Silas Countryman, Munson reported the car was taken by an unknown driver while they were at the inn. The operator of the car at the time it struck a guard rail on Route 213 at Eddyville is still unknown.

OLD LAUNDRY BUILDING RAZED—This was all left of the former Thomsons Laundry, 243 Clinton Avenue, at the end of the work period Monday afternoon. Purchased by Kingston Buick, Inc., of 10 Main Street, the site is being cleared of buildings to make a used car lot and to permit an entrance to the Main Street show room and garage from Clinton Avenue, according to Conrad J. Gross, president of the auto agency. The laundry, a landmark in the business area, was once owned by Arthur H. Wicks, when he was state senator. The part of the building shown here housed his office for the conduct of state business when he was home from Albany and was where politics of the area consulted with the senator when he served as Republican city and county leader. Two Are Injured In One of Three Traffic Accidents

Two persons were injured in one of three city traffic mishaps Monday.

Karen Whitenor, 6, of 4 Garden Court, Saugerties, suffered a nose injury, and Donald Guntzelman, 20, of 18 Elmendorf Street, reported leg injuries after a two-car collision at Smith Avenue and Grand Street at about 4 p. m. They were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Police said the one car was driven by Guntzelman and the other by Elizabeth Whitenor, of 4 Garden Court, Saugerties. Officers Wilmont Hall and George Barringer investigated.

In another reported at 3:05 p. m. police said the car of Edward Pietrowsky, 70, of Linderman Avenue Extension making a turn at Broadway and Andrew Street, struck a city traffic sign and the Knights of Columbus building. The car was towed from the scene, but no injuries were reported. Officers Thomas Carpio and John Kennedy investigated.

A report at 11 p. m. noted that police were unable to learn details of a mishap in which a car owned by the State Department of Taxation and Finance, State Office Building, Albany, had moved from where it was parked on Broadway near Pine Grove Avenue. It was found by Officers Hall and Barringer wedged against a light pole, after moving some distance down a grade. It had been observed earlier properly parked, they said.

Commerce Office Is Moving Today To New Address

It is moving day for the staff of the Kingston Regional office of the State Commerce Department today, and the office force expects to be settled in the new offices at 280 Wall Street by Wednesday.

W. Dale Swartzmiller has been regional manager of the Kingston office since it was established in 1946, and Kevin Sullivan, a business consultant, is his assistant. The telephone number at the new location will remain the same.

The office has been at 261 Fair Street. The regional office serves businessmen and industrialists in Ulster, Orange, Greene, Sullivan and Dutchess counties, and provides business information and counseling, industrial location service, vacation guidance and other assistance.

Continues Crash Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board is continuing its investigation of a United Airlines plane crash that killed 17 persons after disclosing that a whirling swan collided with the airliner.

The CAB said Monday that what happened after the bird crashed into the tail assembly of the airliner last Friday is not known. But a spokesman said the bird, of a type that weighs between 11 and 14 pounds, penetrated about one foot into the plane stabilizer as it was on a flight from Newark, N.J., to Washington.

claimed cease-fire and withdrawal plan.

Balk at Control
The ministry said the Chinese plan would leave them in control of 2,000 square miles of land in Ladakh which they had occupied by force this fall and also in control of key Himalayan passes in the northeast which they seized in the recent invasion.

The Indian statement called on the Chinese to pull back to their positions before Sept. 8 as a condition for border talks. This would put the Chinese on the far side of Thagla Ridge in the Tawang sector of the northeast frontier and on the far side of the watershed at the eastern end of the border. It would also give back to the Indians the line of picket posts they had set up in Ladakh to contain the Chinese encroachment.

Britain agreed today to provide India with arms and other military equipment free. The amount of the aid was not announced.

Teenager Charged With Burglary After Fast Catch

Local police early today made the sixth catch, to date, this year after early morning thefts when they apprehended a 15-year-old boy charged with having entered Welch's Grocery Store, 12 Pine Street.

Apparently frightened from hiding in the vicinity of the Wilbur Avenue railroad trestle by shots fired in the air, the youth was taken into custody and is to be dealt with in family court.

Police went to the store and began combing the area after a call from Mrs. Welch noted the sound of breaking glass at the store at about 1:30 a. m. Several patrol cars were dispatched to the area. The boy was brought to headquarters by Officers Louis Sapp and Vincent Eckert.

Petty Cash, Sweets

Only a small amount of cash, a pie and some candy were reported involved in the theft. Entrance to the store was gained through the breaking of a glass in a rear door window.

Thomas E. Welch, proprietor of the store, said he was amazed at the prompt response of the police after the call to headquarters, and Police Chief Robert F. Murphy commended the officers for "another job well done."

Other Police Action

Earlier this year police made arrests soon after burglaries were reported at Franklin Street stores, after other thefts in the uptown area, following another on O'Neil Street, and a teenager was caught only minutes after a stickup at a Broadway diner.

On the call this morning, besides Sapp and Eckert, were Sgt. William Snyder, Detective Leonard Ellsworth, officers Meyer Levy, Frank Kennelly, George Dougherty and Kenneth Radel.

21,000 Walk Off Jobs at Ford Co. Plant in Jersey

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP)—About 21,000 Ford Motor Co. employees walked off their jobs today in a dispute over work loads and health and safety standards.

The day shift employees were called out about an hour after arriving for work.

Picket lines were set up at the plant gates.

Spokesmen for Local 906, United Auto Workers, said the men felt there was too much carbon monoxide in the plant, that the overhead trolleys moving parts were a safety threat, and that it was too cold for outdoor water tests for trucks.

Both the company and the UAW which represent them said they saw little chance of an early settlement.

Must Boost Imports

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—"We want to deal with the capitalist countries but we don't want to become dependent on them."

On this keynote, Polish Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomułka has launched a massive agricultural effort to end costly grain imports, many of them surplus grain from the United States acquired on long-term credits.

Gomułka said that for the present, because of bad weather on the farms, grain imports will have to be increased.

Gomułka said that investment in agriculture, farm machinery and fertilizer industries will be increased far beyond that of the rest of the economy.

Urging greater economic cooperation among the Soviet bloc countries, the Polish leader admitted that the "Socialist countries are unable to satisfy all our demands. They have the same difficulties as we."

Manor Avenue Fire

Firemen were called at 12:02 p. m. today to check a fire which started in an electric dryer in the Arthur Lansman home, 232 Manor Avenue. Ignited lint spread to linoleum, flooring, baseboard and a section of wall. Units from Central Station and the Wicks Company responded.

Foreigners Help Fill Shortages In Major Fields

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost as many engineers immigrated to the United States in the past decade as were turned out by the nation's engineering schools in their 1961 graduating classes.

The figures are included in a Labor Department study of the occupational distribution of the more than 3.5 million immigrants arriving in this country in the 15-year period of 1947-61.

The study concluded that instead of glutting the U.S. labor force which has experienced high levels of unemployment in recent years, "newcomers from abroad have helped fill shortages in such skilled occupations as engineering, science and the medical profession."

"There can be no doubt," Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz commented on the study, "that by providing a haven for the oppressed, the nation has reaped great profits."

Wirtz cited the contributions of such men as scientist Enrico Fermi, mathematician Albert Einstein, Felix Frankfurter, recently retired Supreme Court justice; Igor Sikorsky, airplane designer, and Eugene Ormandy, symphony conductor, all of whom entered the United States prior to 1947.

During the 1952-61 decade more than 30,000 engineers immigrated to this country. This number compared with the 35,000 graduates of the nation's engineering schools in 1961.

Committee May Get Budget of County Tonight

A meeting of the Budget Committee of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors is scheduled tonight at which time the proposed budget for the Community College is expected to be present. This is a new item in the county budget and will undoubtedly cause a considerable increase over 1962 which totaled $7,571,644.14 of which $3,089,539.07 was raised by tax levy on real estate.

The board of supervisors, now in its annual session, is in adjournment subject to a call by the chairman.

On completion of a tentative budget, a public hearing will be held on the proposed budget and following that public hearing the board will adopt its 1963 budget.

Wrecked Airliner

They had been attending a regional meeting of the Food and Agriculture Organization in Rio de Janeiro.

Varig said the passengers scheduled to disembark at Los Angeles were listed as Mitsue Nizidori, Jose Trivelatto, Marie Ivonne Trivelatto, Mercedes Laredo, Samuel Manuel Gracal, Alcindo Ferreira, Antonio Costa and Oswald Viravolo.

20 Minutes From Lima

Varig said the 707 at one point was reported over the Peruvian city of Pisco, about 20 minutes' flying time from Lima.

The plane was Varig's Flight 810, originating in Porto Alegre, southern Brazilian city where Varig has headquarters. It took off from Lima after making its first boarding stop in Rio de Janeiro, leaving at 10:53 p. m. EST Monday.

It connected with Flight 822 from Buenos Aires. The airline said 37 of the passengers were bound for Lima, 13 for Bogota, 3 for Panama and 18 for Mexico City.

Planes in the area joined in the search, including a DC7 piston-engine plane of the Panagra Airlines.

Up until today, 416 persons had died in the crash of five commercial Boeing 707s in 1961 and 1962. The planes have been in operation since 1958.

Caught in Middle of Own Isms

Nehru Strict Nationalist When Interests Involved

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru is caught in some of his own isms.

This aristocratic but democratic man has picked his precarious way between idealism and realism, passivism and activism, nationalism and internationalism, neutralism and isolationism, socialism, capitalism and communism.

Must Find New Road

Now at 73, a philosophic agnostic, his road has been twisted out of shape by the Red Chinese. He must try to find a new one at the very moment when he seems to be aging rapidly.

Nehru, educated at Cambridge and far more at home in the English language than in any Indian tongue, moved most of his life in the shadow of two dominant men: his father, Motilal, a rich lawyer, and Mohandas Gandhi.

Yet, when they were gone and he felt most alone, he emerged as dominant as either. He became the father of India as it began its independence in the 1940s with problems of poverty and illiteracy as appalling as any in history.

He could have been a rich lawyer, too. But he went with Gandhi. Nationalism — Indian independence — became his life. To fulfill it he spent nine years in British jails for political activity and passive resistance.

He studied capitalism, socialism, Marxism. He rejected communism and for India sought a middle way between capitalism and socialism under democracy because of his dedication to freedom, personal and political.

For this the Red Chinese reviled him. He sought their friendship. They called him the "running dog" of imperialism. He ignored this and made excuses for their excesses, hoping they'd change.

Menacing Challenge

They didn't as their invasion of India showed. They just soft-pedaled their public contempt when it was convenient. There was no mystery about it.

Neutral Nehru was a menacing challenge. If India prospered under freedom it would make a farce of the sacrifices the Chinese people, also in search of a good life, had to endure under communism.

Nehru rejected organized religion with a skepticism that began early. But Gandhi said fondly of his agnostic disciple: "He is nearer God than many who profess to be worshippers" of God.

Yet this man without a creed — in India where Moslems and Hindus, living side by side, have slaughtered one another — sought and achieved a secular state where all men are to be considered equally free and freely equal.

This, according to his best biographer, Michael Brecher, was Nehru's "most notable accomplishment," although Brecher criticizes him for poor administration, lack of decision and a wide gap "between words and deeds."

Plenty of Contradiction

His passive resistance against the British in India was not a way of life with him. It was only a means to an end, his only weapon, when the British had all the weapons. He prefers non-violence but will use force when it helps.

This implies contradiction in him. There is plenty of that. There is also hypocrisy. He who has preached peaceful settlements to others uses naked force when it serves him, as in grabbing Goa from the Portuguese in India.

All his life he has denounced colonialism and imperialism but has practiced both when it suited his purpose. For instance, in seizing the Kashmir territory with his troops although the people might want to be part of Pakistan.

Thus Nehru, who talks brotherhood and internationalism, is a strict nationalist when India's interests are involved.

He told an American Congress in 1949 there is no room for isolationism. But, by remaining neutral in the struggle between the West and communism, he has become the world's No. 1 isolationist.

Nehru sought to avoid foreign entanglement and the expense that went with it. In this way he could pour most of India's resources into its own development. This explains why he kept down the size of his armed forces.

Chaos Could Result

This was where his idealism got the better of his realism, as the Chinese invasion demonstrated. He now wryly admits: "We are getting out of touch with reality in the modern world. We are living in an artificial atmosphere of our own creation and we have been shaken out of it."

Has he? Perhaps not. A fatal, final clash with Red China now seems inevitable. He may be too old, too tired to drive India into a new direction with Western alliances and enormous sums for armaments.

After Nehru, what? No one knows. Perhaps chaos and a turn to the far right.

Sentencing Set Dec. 10

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Four Canadians who have pleaded guilty to a counterfeit check charge will be sentenced here Dec. 10.

Judge John O. Henderson of U. S. District Court set the sentencing date Monday after the Canadians entered the pleas at their arraignment before him. They are charged with possessing 95 counterfeit $100 travelers checks, bringing them into the United States from Canada and forging several of them for purchases here.

They were Marcel Contois, 24, Joseph L. Levesque, 32, and Pasquale DiNunzio, 28, all of Montreal, and Raymond Charron, 37, of Port Arthur, Ont. They were arrested here June 19.

Highest tide ever recorded was 103 feet at Burntcoat Head, Fundy.

Names 3 Counties For Surplus Grain

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Dairy farmers in Delaware, Otsego and Herkimer counties are eligible to buy government - surplus feed grain for their livestock to alleviate a shortage caused by last summer's drought.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman gave the authority Monday in response to a request from Gov. Rockefeller.

Dairymen in several other counties had received similar authority earlier.

Monday's order excluded the Town of Webb in Herkimer County from the emergency area.

Freeman said "conditions appear somewhat spotted" in the three counties. The authority, he said, is limited to dairymen "who have suffered severe loss of crops, hay or pasture."

Seaway Must Clear 78 Ships Before Deadline Friday

MONTREAL (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials say the deadline for closing the seaway may be extended if present temperature trends continue.

The closing is now scheduled for midnight Friday. Officials said 78 ocean - going vessels must be cleared from the international waterway before the deadline.

They said, however, they foresaw no difficulty in clearing most ships, because temperatures have been rising slowly instead of falling as expected.

The water temperature at the St. Lambert Lock here was 41 degrees yesterday. Last Thursday, it was 38.

The officials said that, although the closing deadline might be postponed, ship operators should not count on it. A quick freeze could clog lock machinery, they said.

At least two ocean-going vessels may be forced to remain in the Great Lakes through the winter if the seaway closes on schedule. The Norwegian freighter Maafjell is reported still aground on rocks in Muskegon, Mich., harbor. The ship was stranded Thursday night with 40 persons and 5,000 tons of cargo bound for Montreal.

In Duluth, Minn., yesterday, a federal marshal, acting on an order from U.S. District Court, seized the American freighter Bridgehampton, which was loading a 15,000-ton cargo of foodstuffs for India.

A Duluth lawyer indicated the seizure was the result of a dispute between the two corporations that own the vessel, the largest ocean ship to call at Duluth this season. Normally, it takes ships from Duluth about eight days to pass through the Seaway.

U. S. Commerce Business Analyst Here on Friday

Area businessmen interested in Federal Government procurement, expansion of exports or other services and programs of the U. S. Department of Commerce, are invited to meet with C. Robert Miller, business analyst of the Department's Field Office, at the Chamber of Commerce office in Kingston, Friday afternoon, November 30.

Arrangements for the visit of Miller were made by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce as a direct service to area businessmen. The local Chamber office serves as a Cooperative Office of the U. S. Department of Commerce and as such has considerable information on file about the services available.

Immunization Clinic

A clinic for immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at 15 Main Street, Saturday, Dec. 1, from 9 to 10 a. m. Immunizations for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; smallpox vaccination should be given sometime during the first year of life; and polio immunizations should be started from three to six months of age. These clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are unable otherwise to secure these immunizations.

Dies of Injuries

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Jeno Dus, 50, of Fredonia, died Monday in Our Lady of Victory Hospital in nearby Lackawanna of injuries suffered when his automobile and another car collided here Nov. 4.

Ford ideas so contagious they started a new trend in cars!

If you think today's cars have a lot in common, credit the Ford sketches above. For these ideas sparked a revolution in car design that's reflected wherever you look on the American road.

Ford ideas have a habit of being exciting—practical, too. Consider the innovations found only in our '63s. There is Ford Galaxie's smooth new velvet ride. It cost Ford $10 million to bring it to you, but costs you not a penny extra to enjoy. There is Ford's full twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance* schedule that cuts service worry and expense to a minimum. There's a new manual transmission that lets you shift down from second to first without coming to a stop. And for '63, there's the biggest choice of models ever offered—44 in all!

Only Ford offers all these advantages now. Other cars will eventually catch up—but if you can't wait, here's a tip. See your Ford Dealer today!

Here's America's most contagious ride as seen on the

TIPS FOR WINTER DRIVING

Changed road conditions—ice and snow-covered highways—demand a change in driving habits. Precautions recommended during the season which soon will be upon us include the following:

Winterize your car and your driving techniques.

Remove snow and ice from windshields. Be sure wiper blades, heater and defroster are in working order.

Rear wheels should have snow tires or chains.

Try to avoid sudden stops on icy or snow-bound roads. Brake gently and smoothly.

When driving up a hill that is wet from rain or covered with ice or hard-packed snow, gain speed and use a high gear. If the wheels start to spin, ease back on the throttle.

On a steep downgrade, start very slowly. To help prevent skidding, step on the brake pedal lightly several times.

It is especially dangerous to tailgate under these driving conditions. So keep well back of the vehicle ahead.

Besides observing the safe driving rules, it might be well for motorists to brush up on their driving manners.

Why is it that some motorists, approaching and intersection where they must stop, always push the nose of their car into or past the pedestrian cross walk? In the business sections here, shoppers are forced to go around either front or rear of the halted car, in either case exposing themselves to traffic danger.

Cold weather and the increased number of shoppers on the streets call for extra safety precautions and greater courtesy.

SOLOMON IN CHICAGO

An echo of the wisdom of Solomon was heard the other day in a Chicago court. The point at issue was ownership of a dog claimed by two families, one with three children and the other with seven.

The judgment recalled the celebrated case in which Solomon determined which of two women was the mother of a child by ordering it cut in half. One of the two cried out that rather than let the child die she would give it up to the other woman—whereupon she herself was identified by Solomon as the real mother.

In the Chicago case, when the judge found himself unable to decide which family owned the dog he had the animal brought in. Its tail began to wag and it strained on the leash—toward the family whose three children it cherished above all humankind. So the dog itself decided to whom it belonged.

The case scarcely compares, in poignancy, with that of the two women before Solomon. Still, it has its points. And the best thing about it was that a lawyer gave a similar dog to the children of the disappointed family. Who can match that for an all-around happy ending?

SPITBALLS NEXT?

Adding injury to insult, Cuban militiamen have been throwing rocks across the fence at U.S. Marines stationed at Guantanamo naval base.

Rocks are always preferable to bullets and the Leathernecks really wouldn't mind if it meant that the Russian pull-out of weapons had left the Cubans no better weapons.

BLOW TO THE GAG MEN

Bewhiskered jokes to the contrary, the little woman will get more miles out of the family chariot than her mate could possibly manage.

Agriculture Department's research service figures that with male drivers behind the wheels, service-life expectancy of new autos is 6.0 years. Women drivers can expect to eke 7.0 years of use from a new auto.

Let's hope the cartoonists never hear of these figures. Cartoons wouldn't seem nearly so funny if men drivers were pictured running their autos through garages, up trees, over cliffs, and so on. At least, not to the men.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE SIGNIFICANCE OF T.V.

Television grows increasingly important because it is the best medium for entertainment and leisure for the next generation. Of course, the shows are usually put on by oldsters, who sometimes do not understand their successors. The oldsters must be pleased too, for they buy the heavier and more expensive matters advertised. And, from an economic standpoint, T.V. is essentially an advertising medium, which means that the artists, who write, direct and play in most of the shows, have to struggle against bad taste. They sometimes prevail.

Nevertheless, a knob-turner can usually find what he wants. I, for instance, having reached a fairly advanced age, cannot get too excited about a sexy picture. In fact, most of the kids I know laugh at the imitative antics of elderly actors (in their 30's etc.) acting like the kids no longer do. Each generation has its own approach to sex. The Theda Bara concept of sex is not for this age. James T. Quirk, publisher of "TV Guide," makes the point:

"Ever since the first cave man began chiseling on walls, violence and sex have been accepted as essential ingredients in story-telling. The question is, and always has been, how much of these ingredients is important or necessary? You think you know, and I think I know, and Newton Minow thinks he knows. And while each of us might uphold a differing viewpoint about a specific situation, we would all agree that blatant, out-of-context sex or violence, programmed for its own sake, is abhorrent."

Such that I see on T.V. is not as abhorrent as it is boring. So I turn the knob. I, for one, would prefer pay television, because the ads are not for me. They interrupt the continuity of the story. Just when I warm up to want to punch the villain on the nose, up comes a detergent. I never bought a detergent in my life, not being a housewife. I want to see and hear a relaxing story. I turn the knob and somebody is selling destinking medication. I shut the thing off and go back to my books.

Maybe I would not mind the ads if they were interesting. For instance, I will listen to a "Dash" ad, even though it deals with a detergent, because the amazing monotone of the actor is almost musical. Commercially, every story for me. To have a deeply tragic scene interrupted by a cheerful, smiling girl, with brilliantly white teeth, selling me a cigarette breaks into a tragic story.

Nevertheless, there is always the knob. On Thanksgiving Day, I listened to the Boston Symphony's last concert of the 1962 season at Tanglewood. For the first time in 13 years, I saw Charles Munch's face when he conducted Beethoven's Ninth. This was worth all the foibles and nonsense on television. It is even possible to forgive the curious editorial comments occasionally heard.

In a word, television is still finding its way to become a mature medium for all levels of populations, for all ages and all developments. It requires increasingly mature minds, particularly in its news departments. Jim Hagerty's boo-boo in the Alger Hiss telecast on Nixon will not soon be repeated by anyone. But boo-boos will be made, as they are made in newspapers and magazines, more and more.

The great advantage of television is the knob. I have a device to cut out what I don't want to hear, exercising one of the supreme privileges of freedom—the right not to listen. It is a glorious right. Perhaps that is why Beethoven left us such glorious music; he was deaf. His mind could not be corrupted by his ear.

However, Quirk overdoes his apologia. He says:

"And let there be an end to the persistent critical complaint that episodes involving violence or sex tend to warp the impressionable minds of children. It is a simple matter to determine, in advance, the content of almost everything that appears on your set . . ."

He admonished the parent for not being vigilant. The same argument might be used against parents who permit their children to go to the candy store to buy heroin. The police should have gone there first. That is what we pay the police for. Of course, we do not pay for television. We buy the machines and the stuff comes free, having been paid for by the hucksters. Nevertheless, T.V. should police itself. I am very grateful for "Perry Mason," "The Detectives" and "Ben Casey," and for the knob. I think "Ben Casey" is doing much for an understanding of the medical profession. The DOCTOR SAYS

Seek Shelter at Once
If Warning Is Heard

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The two minutes it takes you to read this column may someday save your life. If a genuine air raid signal is sounded and I hope it never will be—get to a basement shelter without delay if you are in a house or building.

If you are outdoors and can't reach a shelter or building, lie flat on the ground, face down, and cover your head and neck with your arms. If there is a bright flash of light do not under any circumstances look at it or in the direction of the source. Even from a great distance the light of an atomic explosion fireball can blind you permanently.

Put a handkerchief over your nose and mouth to prevent the entry of radio-active dust. The dust that settles on your clothes can be brushed off but the exposed clothes should be discarded as soon as you can get to a place where you can wash all the dust off of your body with soap and water.

If you are in a car at the warning signal, park at the curb and open the windows wide to equalize pressure and prevent glass breakage due to blast. Crouch or lie down below the level of the windows. After the shock wave has passed, close the windows to keep out as much radio active dust as possible.

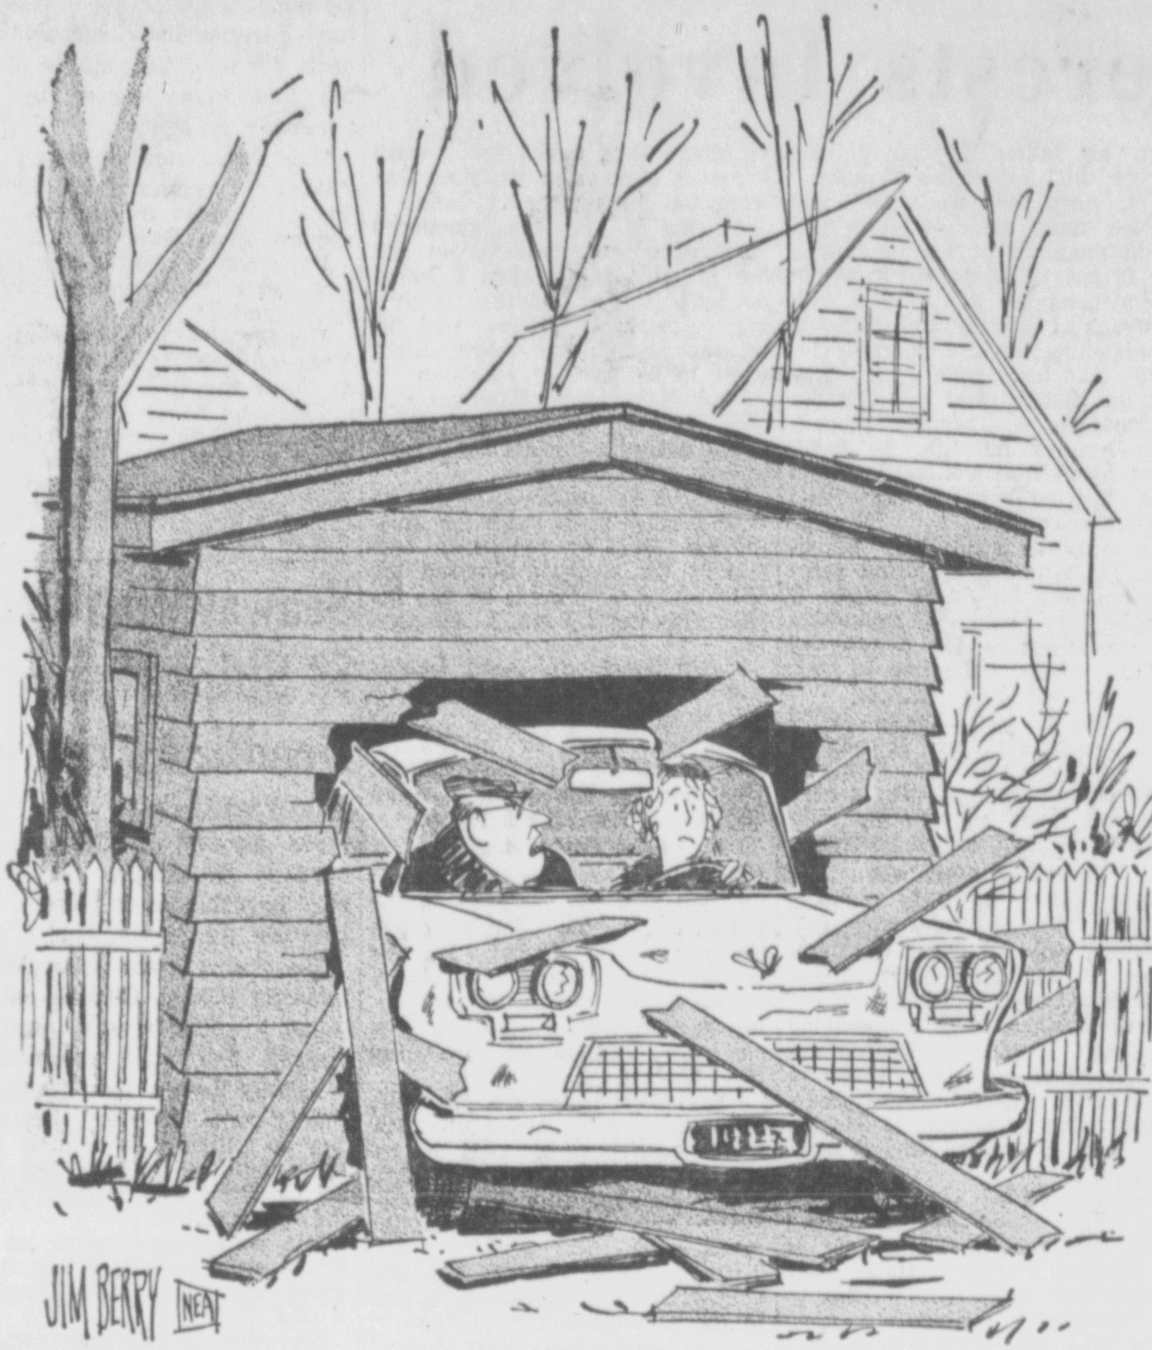

Wherever you are seek the best shielding available at once. Get as low as possible and stay put until the attack subsides. After you have taken shelter do not rush outside until you are officially advised that it is safe because, if you thus expose yourself to fallout contamination, you will not be able to help others but others will have to use valuable time and limited materials to take care of you.

It is essential that you obey instructions. Do not try to use your telephone. If it is working, all lines will be needed by Civil Defense personnel for co-ordinating firefighting and rescue work. Tune in your radio on frequencies 640 or 1240; these frequencies will be the only ones used in such an emergency. If it is necessary to move to a safer place, do so only as directed by authorities. They will know when such a move will be safe. If the family is separated plan to meet later at a pre-selected place.

Because there is not likely to be a doctor available while you are in a fallout shelter, it is essential that one or more members of the family be trained in first aid. Courses in first aid are available through the Red Cross. Under very adverse circumstances it might be necessary to stay in a shelter for two weeks or more. This would create many problems. For more details on how to prepare for such an emergency look at the book "In Touch with Your Local Civil Defense Authorities."

People have survived unexpected disasters of many kinds in the past. Even the people of Hiroshima and Nagasaki found ways to survive. Being prepared increases your chance of survival. Above all, you are expected to keep a cool head and not to panic because the person who panics is a hindrance rather than a help at a time when every bit of help available will be sorely needed.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Cancellation of Undersecretary of State George C. McGhee's second trip to the Congo and the recall to Washington for consultation of U. S. Ambassador to the Congo Edmund A. Gullion emphasize the seriousness with which the State Department views latest developments in the new African state.

McGhee spent three weeks of October in the Congo trying to speed up unification under a moderate government. He had to spend most of his time with officials of the Congo Republic under Premier Cyrille Adoula and with the United Nations mission under Robert K. A. Gardiner of Ghana.

One of the principal purposes of the McGhee mission, however, was to establish a direct line of communication between President Kennedy and Katanga President Moise Tshombe. McGhee spent three days in Katanga and talked for about 20 hours with Tshombe, without success.

THE SITUATION is that both Adoula and Tshombe have agreed to the UN unification plan in principle. It is considered explicit in all details. But it is not self-activating. It requires a lot of discussion for implementation, and the Congolese leaders have proved themselves to be masters at stalling.

Little issues crop up like when, where and how the Katangese gendarmerie will take an oath of allegiance to the central government. It brings on endless argument.

An International Monetary

Fund team of experts is now in the Congo trying to work out the integration of currencies and the method for Katanga's payment to the central government of half the taxes collected on minerals production. IMF is meeting with frustrations.

Tshombe agreed to close his foreign offices and recall his overseas agents. He hasn't done it.

A CEASE-FIRE agreement was initiated by both Adoula and Tshombe. Then it was disavowed and Adoula broke off negotiations.

When McGhee left the Congo at the end of October he had some assurances that negotiations would be resumed and that the cease-fire agreement would be signed. It was to be made effective Nov. 15.

Instead of which, Katanga planes launched a new attack. The Katangese mercenary forces have built up gradually since active fighting ended last December, although there was an agreement they would all be sent home. Best estimate is that Tshombe now has about 18,000 men under arms.

The Congolese Republic's army is now thought to number about 24,000 troops but they are widely dispersed. United Nations forces number about 12,000, mostly in northern Katanga. About half of these forces are Indian troops which Prime Minister Nehru wants at home for the war with Red China.

THE WHOLE CONGO issue is on the active agenda of the United Nations General Assembly.

Any further outbreak of fighting would force the UN to take decisive action, possibly applying sanctions against Katanga to shut off its revenues from the sale of minerals. This is action favored by Russia and the Communist bloc.

On the other hand, the Congo Republic now charges that Russian and Czech diplomats are trying to promote secession of Kasai province from the central government, which would further weaken unification.

The United States is now committed to a policy of not allowing the Congo Republic central government to fail for lack of funds although this country has already poured over $270 million into the Congo through the UN.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Alfred Ronder, president of the Savings and Loan Assn. of Kingston, told me up at Sky Top Restaurant when they were having the Urban Renewal breakfast, that he had some old pictures to show me. We did not have a chance to talk more about it, but I promised to get in touch with him, they sounded very interesting. He gave me a little notebook from the Savings Bank for October. I notice they list "memorable dates in October." For instance, Oct. 10, 1845 the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis opened, and Oct. 12, 1492, Columbus discovered San Salvador, and Oct. 13, 1792, the cornerstone of the White House was laid.

This little booklet also has the complete 1962-63 calendar, besides a story on "The Discovery of America," telling all about Columbus. It does not mention John Vanderlyn painting of the landing of Columbus, and it being in the Rotunda at Washington, and that the artist was from Kingston, N. Y. No doubt these booklets are printed for many banks across the country, and little is known about Vanderlyn, I am sorry to say. They also have sayings on each page, like "Please all and you will please none.—Aesop, that was for Friday Oct. 19. For Tuesday, Oct. 16, "The old say, 'I remember when.' The young say, 'What's the news?'—Gelett Burgess. This little booklet is only 4 by 3 inches, and perfect for memorandum notes. It is a sort of miniature almanac.

I remember when my father used to give out almanacs, some drug firms used to put out. They were very popular. They had sayings, and all about the moon, and famous dates and people just liked to read them and keep them. Tom Walsh gave me a bunch of them going back, I think to the 1860's. Captain Andrew Hickey told me he enjoys the articles from

Post Football Game Riot: Its Impact on the Capital

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The American people have not yet been given the full story of a racial conflict which occurred right here in the National Capital, worse in some respects than the Mississippi tragedy.

A record crowd of more than 50,000 persons gathered on Thanksgiving Day at the D. C. stadium to witness a football game for the city schoolboy championship between teams representing, respectively, St. John's College High School, Catholic and predominantly white, and Eastern High School, a public high school which is predominantly colored.

When St. John's won 29 to 7, a mob of approximately 2,000 spectators, predominantly colored, swarmed down on the field from the Eastern High School stands, and the fighting began.

Extra details of police were on duty at the stadium, but they were greatly outnumbered. Several were themselves mauled. Of the 40 persons requiring treatment for injuries, only eight were Negroes. Three white teenagers were hospitalized for serious injuries. Of the 14 men and one juvenile arrested, only one was white. The full police report has not been made public.

Games Called Off

Walter N. Tobriner, president of the city's Board of Commissioners, which is under the jurisdiction of the Federal government—was quoted after the game as having said:

"I don't think we should have the game. There should at least be a lapse of a year until people learn to behave . . ."

"I don't think we can stand this kind of thing again. It's not good for the city, not good for sports and not good for the schools."

The next day the Rt. Rev. John S. Spence, director of education of the Archdiocese of Washington, announced a moratorium on championship playoffs in football and basketball between the two school systems in the District.

Carl F. Hansen, superintendent of the District's public schools, hailed the monsignor's statement as "very thoughtful, well worked out and one that shows very great depth of understanding." For the statement placed no blame on the players of either team or on the authorities or on most of the spectators or on the public-school system. It did call on the authorities to punish the "instigators and aggressors" in the "brutal lawlessness that took place, and asked that 'the proper investigative and judicial authorities' be invoked 'to the fullest extent of the law.'"

The heads of influential Negro groups here—the Baptist ministers conference, the Teachers Union, the local NAACP, the Urban League, and various other community organizations—issued a joint statement deploring the "irresponsible behavior exhibited by some of the persons" attending the game and said that "unsportsmanlike conduct and rowdiness can neither be excused nor tolerated."

Ominous Overtones

But the same statement went on to say that, while to some extent "release of pentup emotion built around a championship game" is understandable, "aspects of Thursday's fracas reflect ominous overtones and mirror the challenge of much of America's unfinished business—full participation in all aspects of community life and the exercising of total responsibility in community affairs."

This was the nearest any public expression came to suggesting that one cause of the riot was deep feeling between Negroes and whites. Most of the news articles presented to the public carried denials of the existence of any racial friction. But all accounts agree on one fact—about 2,000 persons swept down on the field from the Eastern High School stands when the riot began. The fighting ensued outside as well as inside the stadium.

Here was a case of defiance of the law governing behavior in public. Here was a case in which many on both sides were injured and there was considerable property damage. Here was a case in which the police didn't maintain "law and order."

Another Mississippi?

Maybe next time, if the games are resumed, Federal troops will be deployed here as they were in Mississippi. Maybe an "executive order" will be issued compelling the authorities to rescind the ban on championship games between teams of opposite races. Maybe the suspension of the games will be construed as a denial of "civil rights" and of the "constitutional principle" that now is cited as condemning segregation in the use of public facilities. Maybe the Attorney General and his deputies, who lately have been making speeches blaming Mississippi lawyers for not teaching the people that the law must be respected and obeyed, will make speeches now to enlist the services of the lawyers of the District of Columbia Bar Association, who supposedly could help to indoctrinate in the cause of law and order all future spectators at football games between schools which are predominantly white and schools which are predominantly Negro.

The heads of the respective organizations of students at St. John's and Eastern High School have come forth with a joint statement for the two schools condemning the "unhappy display of temper and boorish behavior." They also said they intended to appoint a fact-finding committee of students from both schools to determine the attitudes and reactions of the students.

The District of Columbia schools are attended predominantly by Negroes. Most of the whites have moved to the suburbs or go to private schools. The enrollment in the public schools is 83 per cent Negro today. The whites were also in the minority in the stadium on Thanksgiving Day. So the problem seems to be how to protect in the future the rights of the minority against such outbreaks of violence as the city witnessed on a day supposed to be devoted to the giving of thanks "for all blessings received," including theoretically "integration" of schools in the Nation's Capital. Plumbing Is One Of Least Known Systems in Home

It takes a heap of livin' to make a house a home, but sound plumbing helps too.

Despite its importance, the plumbing system is one of the most unknown parts of the home to the occupant. This is because of the "iceberg effect," that is, all but a fraction of the pipes are submerged behind the ceramic tile walls and floors of the kitchen, bath and powder rooms.

Satisfactory performance of the plumbing system depends on three divisions of the system: water supply, fixtures and drainage. Their operation depends in turn on proper planning of room layout, construction and location of fixtures and piping.

The most important step in planning for economy is to minimize the length of piping runs. For example, in one-story homes, the bathroom and kitchen should be placed back to back around a single plumbing wall. On second floors, piping runs can be shortened by locating the bath directly over the kitchen or downstairs bath.

In sprawling, one-floor ranch houses, the most effective means is to divide the plumbing system into two sections. Center one group of fixtures and connections around the kitchen and laundry. The other should bring together the baths and powder room.

In individual rooms, piping runs can be shortened by placing all fixtures against the same wall. However, don't sacrifice comfort merely for the sake of saving a few dollars. This is false economy.

Bank Job Will Mean Return to Native Germany

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP) — Otto Strauss, 27, who was accused of robbing a bank last spring, will be deported to his native Germany.

A spokesman for Dist. Atty. Charles E. Bowers of St. Lawrence County said yesterday an indictment against Strauss on a charge of third-degree robbery had been dismissed on the condition that Strauss be turned over to federal officials to be deported. Police have said they arrested Strauss as he fled from the Madrid branch of the St. Lawrence County Bank with $1,050.

He was adjudged insane by psychiatrists at the St. Lawrence State Hospital and has been held at the hospital.

The district attorney's spokesman did not indicate when Strauss would be placed in federal custody for deportation. Strauss' parents live here.

Admitted Embezzler Gets Suspended Term

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Bennett C. Harmon of Ithaca, who admitted embezzling $11,460 from the bank where he worked, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation Monday in federal court.

Harmon pleaded guilty July 18 to a charge of embezzling the funds from the Tompkins County Trust Co. in Ithaca. Judge Stephen W. Brennan of U.S. District Court said that Harmon had returned the money after selling his house.

In another case, Andrew L. Totte of Vestal pleaded guilty to forging completion certificates for furnaces he had not installed in order to obtain loans from the Federal Housing Administration.

Brennan ordered an investigation and scheduled sentencing for Dec. 10 in Syracuse.

First Dividend in Years

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Houdaille Industries has declared its first extra cash stock dividends in several years.

The company said Monday that a 10-cent extra cash dividend for each share of common stock, plus the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share of common, would be paid Dec. 31 to shareholders of record Dec. 7.

An extra cash dividend of 564 cents for each share of preferred stock will be paid Jan. 2 to shareholders of record Dec. 7, the company said.

Houdaille manufactures industrial tools and machinery, automotive parts and construction materials.

Canvassers Can't Agree

Court to Decide Minn. Governor

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The State Canvassing Board could not agree, and it is now up to the Minnesota Supreme Court to decide who won the closest governor election in the state's 105-year history.

The five-member board split three ways Monday in failing to certify a winner in the Nov. 6 election. Because state law requires all five members must sign the election certificate, the muddled governorship election went to the court.

Two board members voted to accept original returns which gave Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, the Democratic candidate for governor, a 58-vote lead.

Two others voted to accept returns from 10 counties which gave Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen a margin of 142 votes.

The fifth board member said the dispute involved legal questions that must be decided by the Supreme Court before a winner can be certified.

The controversy hinges on whether the board should count revisions in 10 county canvasses. The revisions swung the lead from Rolvaag to Andersen.

It was doubtful even a State Supreme Court decision on the legality of the amended returns will settle the matter. Because of the closeness of the vote, the loser is almost certain to demand a recount.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market weathered an uneasy opening and resumed its upward trend early this afternoon.

Trading was fairly active but not up to the level of the last two sessions, which were the busiest in a month. The ticker lagged twice during the morning.

Steels, aircrafts and savings and loan holding companies provided much of the upward push. All were braced by favorable news.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead 5 at 238.1 — practically equaling Monday's final loss. The industrial component was up 9, and both rail and utility components ahead by 2.

Aerospace issues converted small morning losses into gains of around 1/2 point in many cases by midday.

U.S. Steel picked up more than 1. Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Lukens also were higher by 1 or more. Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin all tacked on fractions.

Among the savings and loan holding companies, Financial Charter was ahead more than 1/2. Trans Western Financial and First Charter Financial about 1/2. Chrysler was ahead by around 1/2, almost as much as Monday's loss. GM and Studebaker gained small fractions and Ford and American Motors were unchanged.

Alcoa Chairman Leaves Million to Secretary

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A question a secretary asked her boss 12 years ago was worth more than a million dollars to her today.

The question was asked in the Washington office of the Aluminum Company of America, where Miss Evelyn Mitchell was head receptionist and secretary to Arthur Vining Davis, chairman of the board.

"I knew Mr. Davis was setting up an office in Miami," Miss Mitchell recalled Monday. "So I asked him if he planned to take a secretary along."

Seldom Away From Him Davis decided to take her. "He was a hard worker and spent long hours on the job," she added. "And he expected you to work long hours and work without complaint."

Miss Mitchell, born in Newport News, Va., attended school in Charleston, W.Va., where she studied typing and stenography. She went to work for Alcoa in Washington early in World War II.

In Miami, Miss Mitchell soon learned her principal job was to take care of affairs at Journey's End, the Davis home south of town.

After Davis suffered an illness in 1952, Miss Mitchell was seldom away from his side.

"He had become used to long hours of work following the death of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins Davis, in 1933 and he liked to keep busy as much of the time as possible," she said.

After Davis suffered a critical illness in 1956, Miss Mitchell became his constant companion and looked after him night and day until he died Nov. 17 at the age of 95.

His will, filed for probate Monday, left her $1 million in cash and a palatial home opened only last May.

Monthly Payments Too She also will receive monthly payments for life from the income of an insured trust.

Other bequest, by Davis include $100,000 cash and income in monthly installments to Dorothy A. Given, daughter of his late second wife; $500,000 cash to William B. Given of New York City, her husband; $400,000 to Mary Davis, daughter of Davis' late brother, Albert Davis; $10,000 cash and $337.50 insured life monthly payments to Anthony Petrilli, his chauffeur.

To Agnes Flores, a former employee now living in New York, $10,000 and $150 a month for life; $375 monthly for life to Carl W. Voss, Davis' former boat captain, and other monthly payments for life to former employees.

Unnamed educational, religious and charitable institutions are to be paid at the discretion of trustee income and principal from 75 percent of the estate after payment of the specific bequests.

Davis' wealth has been estimated at $300 to $400 million.

Red Hook Woman Is Hurt in Auto Crash

A 62-year-old Red Hook woman suffered a fractured left wrist at 2 p. m. Monday, when the car in which she was riding went out of control on a curve on the Kerkley Corners Road, east of Route 9, Town of Clermont.

Mrs. Irene V. McClay, RD 2, Red Hook, was riding in a vehicle operated by her husband, David J. McClay, 66, when an unidentified vehicle traveling in the opposite direction appeared and McClay lost control as he swerved to avoid a collision.

The McClay car crashed into a guard rail. McClay took his wife to the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck. She was treated and admitted for further observation, according to Trooper Glen Held, Rhinebeck, who investigated.

feelers concerning a White House visit for Mikoyan.

Backs Castro's Points

In his talk with newsmen Mikoyan came out strongly for Castro's five-point demands, including U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo naval base and an end to the U.S. economic boycott of Cuba. Stevenson said the Castro demands were not discussed at the dinner.

Mikoyan also praised the Cuban government's offer to allow U.S. inspection of Soviet withdrawal of offensive weapons from Cuba in return for the dismantling—under U.N. inspection—of bases in the United States, Puerto Rico and elsewhere from which anti-Castro exiles are operating against the Cuban regime.

The State Department brushed off the Cuban proposal. U.S. officials said privately the Kennedy administration would make no such concessions to get fulfillment of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's agreement for U.N. inspection of Cuba.

Urges Council Report

Thant was reported urging the United States and the Soviet Union to go before the Security Council with a joint statement closing out the current phase of the Cuban crisis.

Informed sources said Thant envisaged a U.S.-Soviet statement noting removal of Soviet missiles from Cuba, the promise to pull out Soviet jet bombers and the end of the U.S. naval blockade.

examples of goods which the committee wanted boycotted.

She said committee members would go through stores and make lists of products bearing labels which indicated they were from Communist nations.

Then, she said, the products and lists would be taken to the store managers.

"The next step will be to write to elected officials explaining your feelings and asking them for their feelings on the subject," she said.

Done in Other Areas

Similar protests against the sale of Communist-made goods in the United States have been made recently in other sections of the country.

Mrs. Newberry said the committee would not demonstrate or picket stores in which communist imports were sold.

About 40 persons from Monroe and surrounding counties attended Monday night's meeting, including businessmen, professional persons, housewives, and refugees from nations now dominated by the Soviet Union.

The total membership of the committee was not learned.

Fined for Trespassing

William Brennan, 19, of 79 Howland Avenue, charged with trespassing on posted property, was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Edmund R. Bower, of Hurley Monday night. It was charged that he had been hunting on the Jack Gill property owned by Hurley in October. Two others booked on like charges paid $10 each Nov. 20 and a Jamaica, L. I. resident, was due to appear today before Justice of the Peace Bower.

Constant Watch Still Kept on Cuba, Is Report

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—During the first two days of the Cuban crisis, U.S. air defense jets flew about 750 sorties over the waters between this southernmost tip of Florida and Cuba.

Disclosing this today, an informed source said: "We keep a constant radar watch over the Cuban area. If anything comes up of Cuba toward the north, we scramble."

He said about one-third of the fighter craft based here are on five-minute alert at all times and when the powerful radar pointed toward Cuba picks up a suspicious blip "these pilots move out pronto."

This informant said there is "absolutely no basis" to persistent rumors that Soviet U-2-type planes have operated at high altitudes over the Florida coast. No other Cuban planes have penetrated U.S. airspace, he added.

Supplementing ground station radar are aircraft which maintain an airborne radar watch. Navy P-2V patrol planes based here are able to stay aloft for as long as 18 hours, the source said.

This authority said Air Force and Navy fliers were confident they could have knocked down most, if not all, of the Soviet bombers before they reached the U.S. coast had such an attack been made from Cuba.

Bans Pocket Watches

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Board of Health has placed a ban on sales of radium-dial pocket watches in New York City, effective Feb. 1, on the ground that they are a radiation hazard to persons who carry them.

The action does not affect radium-dial wrist watches.

Dr. George James, health commissioner, explained that pocket watches normally are carried near the waist line, with the face toward the body, while wrist watches face away from the body and have metal between the radium dial and the arm.

Announcing the ban Monday, the Health Department said a study shows a radium-dial pocket watch emits 75 units of radiation a year, or 150 times more than the permissible .5 unit a year set by the department.

Hit Lefky's Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Democrats claim that a ruling by State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, a Republican, interfered with the work of election inspectors here during the Nov. 6 general election.

Their statements came during a public hearing Monday on recommendations to revise the state election law. Among reforms proposed were permanent personal registration for all voters and permanent spring primary elections.

Justin N. Feldman and Harold Fisher, law chairmen of the New York County and Kings County Democratic committees, respectively, testified at the hearing about the Lefkowitz ruling on election inspectors.

Knights Templar Official Is Due Here Wednesday

Officers and members of Roundout Commandery, 52, will be visited Wednesday night by Neil R. Baker of Syracuse, grand junior warden of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, State of New York.

A dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, in honor of the visiting grand junior warden to which ladies are invited. Tickets may be obtained at the Temple.

Baker is a past commander of Central City Commandery 25 of Syracuse, and a member of the Masonic fraternity since 1923. He was raised as a member of Oswego Lodge, and now known as Lake City Lodge 127 of Oswego. He is a member of all New York Rite Bodies, and New York Sovereign College. Baker is a member of Central City Consistory, Valley of Syracuse, and its Guard Club; Keder Kahn Grotto 12; Masonic Veterans Association of Syracuse and the Council Association of Past Commanders and Council Officers of zone nine.

Baker is a veteran of World War I, serving overseas with the 27th Division and a past commander of the Henry Makyes Post of the American Legion.

He was formerly employed in the Transportation Department of the Mail Service of the Federal Government, retiring in 1957 to accept a position in the field of insurance. He is now a field representative with the Continental Assurance Company of Chicago.

Commander Ralph H. Hayner of Roundout Commandery has issued invitations to Hudson River 35, Newburgh; Delaware 44, Port Jervis; Poughkeepsie 43, Poughkeepsie; Cyprus 67, Middletown and Rockland, 75, Haverstraw to attend the inspection.

Pope Extends Recess

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today extended the 1963 recess of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council by four months, telling the prelates to return in September instead of May from a recess that begins Dec. 8.

The Pope's decision for a nine-month break was announced at today's closed council session in St. Peter's where 2,200 bishops examined a thesis exploring possible roads toward Christian unity.

Pope John does not sit in the council hall for the working sessions.

BETTER LIVING!

ISLAND DOCK LUMBER, INC. — FE 1-1960

"We bought some stocks eight years ago. These include Anglo-Laurito Nitrate, Pantepec Oil, and Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical. Do you think we should hold or sell at present depressed levels?" J. S.

A) It always distresses me to hear from good people like yourselves, who hold stocks about which little encouragement can be offered.

Anglo-Laurito Nitrate is a Chilean company, controlled by the Guggenheim family, which is good. However, it operates in an inflation-ridden country where salaries and wages have risen over 50 per cent since 1959 and product prices have been virtually static, which is bad. I would get out of this stock and pocket my loss.

The same advice holds true for Pittsburgh Coke, which has been going downhill for years. Pantepec's outlook is very dubious, but with the shares selling at only 50 cents, I would put this one away and hope and pray for a better price level — in which case I would get out.

Q) We own 100 shares of Merritt-Chapman & Scott. It is almost two years since they have paid any dividends. Would you advise us to sell for income tax purposes and buy back — or just sell and forget it?" A. D.

A) I could answer this question better if I knew more about your financial background. However, I'm going to assume that you can face up to taking a substantial loss.

Although the company seems to be well managed, I would get out of Merritt and stay out. Two of the company's major divisions — construction and shipbuilding — are subject to wide variations in profit margins. At present, the outlook has improved somewhat and earnings seem to be rising a little. It is a fact, however, that with one exception — 1959 — the shares have been declining since 1954 and earnings reached their peak in 1953.

I consider this stock a risk issue, and I believe you would be better off with a stable, growing situation, such as Green Shoe. (Copyright 1962, General Features Corp.)

Protests Aired At Hearing on Dutchess Budget

Approximately 100 Dutchess County residents, including a delegation of members of Pomona Grange, Monday night attended a public hearing on the county's proposed record $7,760,896 budget.

The session lasted a little more than an hour and was marked by protests on proposed pay increases for those already receiving $7,000 to $9,000 annually.

A group of taxpayers also voiced objection to proposed creation of new jobs, and urged the Board of Supervisors to cut the tentative budget before it is adopted.

Booklet Being Distributed as Public Service

SYRACUSE—As your family gathers around the Christmas tree this year, suppose your children or grandchildren should ask: "How old is our Christmas tree?" Would you be able to tell them? Could you prove your answer in two, different ways? And then there are the buds.

What do they do? What is the importance of the needles? How tall did your Christmas tree grow this past year?

Your Christmas tree is among the greatest creations in nature. Why not make your Christmas tree an important part of your happy family holiday this year?

If you want to find the answers to these and many other questions, send for a four-page, illustrated booklet entitled, "The Story of Your Christmas Tree."

Prepared by Prof. Floyd E. Carlson of the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University, the free leaflet is being distributed at this time by the College of Forestry as a public service.

The colorfully-printed publication uses illustrations and simple explanations to tell "The Story" from the symbolism of the tree to the nature of the buds, branches, trunk and wood fibers.

For a free copy of "The Story of Your Christmas Tree," mail a postal card to:

Glancing Over TV Matching Shows And Commercials Is Special Study

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The recipe for the ideal television program from the sponsor's viewpoint has been defined as a "happy show about happy people with happy problems"—obviously because the people who pay for the shows feel that these move goods.

Now comes along a research organization which has been conducting intense studies of viewers and their response to commercials. Not too surprisingly, the Scherwin studies indicate that "bland program types" (situation comedies and musical variety shows as prime examples) present the "most neutral environments" for commercial messages.

On the other hand, it found that "suspenseful programs" of all kinds tend to build "emotional participation" on the part of the viewer which may affect the commercials.

In other words, the more interested we viewers become in a television show, the more likely we are to resent the commercial interruptions.

Matching up programs and commercials obviously is a special science, and possibly may explain why commercial television is so short on gripping drama and so long on comedy and musical programs.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, with their early Saturday evening variety hour, are the first announced casualties of the season. They were done in by low ratings and will disappear after their Dec. 22 show.

ABC will fill the hour by moving its "Gallant Men" war series into the spot. "The Gallant Men" Friday night hole will be plugged with re-runs of "Winston Churchill" and re-runs of "Father Knows Best." The Sunday hour they used to occupy on the network will be turned back to local stations.

Shakiest shows at CBS and NBC are, respectively, "Fair Exchange" and "Saints and Sinners."

Recommend tonight: Jack Benny Show, CBS, 9:30-10 (EST); Garry Moore Show, CBS, 10-11; Peggy Cass is guest star.

Growth
New York was the only city in the United States with a population of more than 100,000 in 1810. It had 119,734 inhabitants. The 1960 U.S. census revealed there now are 130 U.S. cities in that category.

Holding Second Meeting of Year Tuesday Evening

The Mid-Hudson Psychological Association will hold its second meeting of the current year Tuesday. At this time the film "Food and Maternal Deprivation" will be shown at the Blodgett Hall Auditorium, Vassar College, at 8 p. m.

The film was produced by L'Association Pour la Sante Mentale de L'Enfance, in Paris, France, under the direction of Dr. Jenny Aubrey, President. This French research unit has studied the effects of maternal deprivation on child development. The children in this film are between the ages of 10 months and 4 years of age and have lived in institutions since birth, and have been displaced several times from one institution to another. The film will indicate the feeding difficulty often linked with maternal deprivation and the attitude of the child toward food as an expression of his attitude towards adults who are willing to give him maternal care.

The public is invited to attend and members of the association are encouraged to participate in the discussion following the film. Miss Henrietta Smith, associate professor, Child Study Department of Vassar College, will be the moderator and the coordinator of the discussion.

Urban Renewal Director Named For Poughkeepsie

A 34-year-old Rockville, Conn., man has been appointed as director of the Poughkeepsie Urban Renewal program, it was made known Sunday by City Manager Kenneth Pearce.

George Copans, a native of Newburgh, will begin his work at Poughkeepsie on Dec. 24, at a salary of $12,000 a year. His appointment is for an indefinite period.

Manager Pearce said Copans salary will be paid from an initial $86,205 planning allotment from the Federal Housing and Home Financing (Urban Renewal Agency). Also financed from the same personnel and planning fund will be the $44,000 in consultant's fees to be paid to O. Wayne Noble Associates, Paterson N. J., the firm responsible for the planning work on the city program.

New Plans for Bomber

LONDON (AP)—The British Air Ministry is to study plans for a bomber to fly 15,000 miles an hour at an altitude of 47 miles, the London Daily Telegraph reported today.

The newspaper said the plans had been produced by Dr. Barnes Wallis, inventor of the skip bombs the Royal Air Force used in dam-busting raids in World War II. Wallis, now 75, is chief of aeronautical research and development for the Vickers Aircraft Co.

Copans is a graduate of the University of Georgia, with a bachelor of arts degree and has been a real estate negotiator on shopping center projects and as an appraiser of the New York State Board of Equalization and Assessment. He is married and the father of one child.

Brothers Facing $10,000 Fine, 5 Years in Tax Case

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Two brothers will be sentenced Dec. 17 for what a third brother already has been convicted of—tax evasion.

Judge John O. Henderson of U. S. District Court set the sentencing date Monday after Anthony and Joseph Fago pleaded guilty to charges of personal and corporate tax evasion totaling $93,136.

Their brother, Dominick, was convicted in April on charges of not paying a total of $34,979 in 1954 and 1955 personal income taxes and income and social security taxes withheld from employees of two construction companies he formerly headed.

He was sentenced to serve 18 months in prison and pay a $50,000 fine. But the sentence has been stayed pending the outcome of an appeal of the convictions.

His brothers could each receive a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment. They originally were named in 11 counts charging evasion of a total of $228,940 in personal and corporate taxes from 1956 to 1959. But the U.S. Attorney's office said nine counts would be dismissed at the sentencing.

Anthony Fago, president of Fago Brothers Contracting Co., Inc., of nearby Tonawanda, pleaded guilty to a charge of filing a fraudulent return for the company for the fiscal year ending March 1958. As a result the government said, the company evaded $69,811 in income taxes.

Joseph Fago, vice president of the company, pleaded guilty to a charge of evading $23,325 in personal income taxes in his 1957 return.

Kingston Library Lists New Books Added Recently

New books recently added to the shelves at the Kingston City Library include Anna Chan Chennault's "A Thousand Springs," the biography of marriage.

Mrs. Chennault tells of her marriage to Claire Chennault, hard bitten 50-year old commander of the Fourteenth Air Force. Much of her own background and her husband's frustrations during the Sino-Japanese conflict make an interesting and worthwhile book.

"Foreign Affairs and You," by Andrew Berding is how American foreign policy is made and what it means to you.

Mary Catherine O'Connor's, "The Kinderbeast Prize," though Catholic in tone, the stories would be enjoyable to any one who likes well-done stories.

"Private Yankee Doodle" is a narrative of some of the adventures, dangers and sufferings of a Revolutionary soldier. A well written book by Joseph P. Martin.

Helen Fuller's "Year of Trial," a detailed appraisal of the first year of the Kennedy administration. The writing has both balance and immediacy.

The new books: FICTION. "Tales for a Rainy Night," Alexander; "Enemy in the House," Eberhart; "Strait Passage," Dughi; "The Best American Short Stories," Foley; "The Case of the Blonde Bonanza," Gardner; "The Case of the Ice-Cold Hands," Gardner; "Master of Castle," Gerson; "It's a Battlefield," Greene; "Acivil Contract," Heyer; "Mountain Standard Time," Horgan; "The Praying Mantis," Montelhet; "The Kinderbeast Prize," O'Connor; "The Tin Goose," Olsen; "A Long and Happy Life," Price; "Unru," Ruark; "Magnificent Destiny," Wellman; "The Next Fine Day," Yates.

SOCIAL SERVICES. "Foreign Affairs and You," Berding; "Facts & Fallacies of International Business," Fayerweather; "Helping Your Child Succeed in Elementary School," Jameson.

SPACE. "Introduction to Space," Dubridge; "Planets Stars and Galaxies," Ingles.

People and Places. "The Arab World Today," Berger; "A Thousand Springs," Chennault; "Will Rogers," Day; "Year of Trial," Fuller; "The Old Post Road," Holbrook; "Private Yankee Doodle," Martin; "Victory Over Myself," Patterson; "The Man From Missouri," Steinberg. Plants and Animals. "The Ideas of Biology," Bonner; "How to Live With a Calculating Cat," Gurney.

Miscellaneous. "To a Young Dancer," DeMille; "Oh, Ye Jigs and Juleps," Hudson.

Plans Return to Base

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Three B-47 bombers left Niagara Falls Air Force Base Monday after a three-week stay and returned to their home base at Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha, Neb. The planes were sent here during the height of the Cuban crisis.

School Board Hears Reports

At the recent meeting of the New Paltz Central School Board it was reported that Henry Enlund, school tax collector had returned the tax roll to the county treasurer. The amount of taxes still unpaid is $41,791.18, and the unpaid bills will be passed on to the county treasurer.

George Silverman, architect for the new school building, reported that the cost of rock excavation was in the amount of $16,349. The bid had called for $14,000. An order was issued for the extra amount.

He also suggested that he was in favor of using a buff brick to be used for the new school, this was one of three kinds he showed the board. Most were in favor of still using the regular red brick originally planned. The buff brick would cost approximately $3,000 more. The board made no decision about this at the time.

Fredrick Dippel, supervising principal, read a statement on sabbatical leave which will be incorporated in the board's policy at the next regular meeting. The sabbatical leave may be granted after seven years of teaching, to only one person a year, for a full year at half-salary, or half a year at full salary.

Mr. Hamilton reported that 926 were served Nov. 15 at the Thanksgiving dinner for all elementary children and their parents.

Hamilton also brought up the subject of a new accounting system recommended by the state. It involves a special machine which takes care of a great many accounts which are difficult to handle without a machine. He expressed the hope that the board might invest in such a machine by next year. The cost is approximately $6,000 to $7,000. William Hagney, a member of the board, asked if this machine might make for a better school. Mr. Hamilton explained that this system gives more control over all expenses, gives information immediately on how much the cost is for each department. He explained that it would make for an easier method of preparing the budget than before.

Dippel reported that the bonds sold for the new school building, sold to Halsey Stuart and Company at 29 percent interest, will be signed and the money received by the end of November. The buyer had paid a premium of $5,923.19, and the interest from the day of sale, Nov. 8 to 28 is $11,341.98, making the total now $624,265.17.

It was decided to deposit the bond money in the State of New York National Bank and then draw a check for the amount and deposit it in the Franklin National Bank in Levittown which pays a three and one-half percent interest from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal.

Dippel also read a letter from George Bond, principal of the campus school who suggested that the elementary school day be shortened. Mr. Dippel has been working on a schedule for buses for all the schools in the district for next year for children in kindergarten through sixth grade from 9 a. m. to 2:45 p. m. No action was taken on this matter at this time.

Prior to the meeting time, Lawrence Johnson, director of athletics at the Central School spoke to the board about the physical education program. He said the football team for next year looked good, and that the field day held this year was the best one to date. He said that all students in grades 7 through 12 have taken the physical fitness test for the 50 yard dash, sit-ups, 600 yard race for endurance, softball throw for distance, and an agility test. He said he felt the students were above the state and national average. He also made the following suggestions: That there be a better doctor set-up with physical examinations earlier in the year for so far this year only about 150 students out of 1,000 have been examined, including 68 football players, a doctor at attendance at JV games; a further study of giving credit for gym; new equipment such as mats, flying rings, stall bar, more space for storage; and a late bus for the convenience of students participating in physical education programs. He said also that he would like to introduce wrestling.

Mr. Hamilton reported that 926 were served Nov. 15 at the Thanksgiving dinner for all elementary children and their parents.

MENTAL ILLNESS
To Be Topic of Panel Meeting

It has been announced that a panel discussion will be presented at an open meeting to all members of the community, including a film on mental illness Wednesday at the New Paltz Methodist Church. The half-hour film, titled Moment to Act will be shown first, then a panel discussion will be held on the importance of a community response to people returning home from a mental hospital will follow.

The panel will include Dr. Nathan Stillman, who is on the staff at Yeshiva University, and has had many years experience in both teaching and counseling in the field of psychology; Mrs. Julius McClain, a counselor and social worker; and Dr. Norman Reed, who has taught psychology and is presently counseling at the State University College here, and the Rev. Dudley Bennett, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, New Paltz.

Moment to Act was filmed in California by Roger Tilton, who taught at the University here some years ago. This excellent film tells the story of a young girl's encounter with a violent person in her community when she returned from a mental hospital.

Coffee and a question period will conclude the program.

Paintings on Display

An exhibition of 12 paintings by Anthony Bonagura are now on exhibit at the New Paltz Savings Bank at Lower Main Street.

Mr. Bonagura, who resides in Gardiner, is a lifetime member of the Grand Central Art Galleries in New York City, and received his academic art training at Cooper Union and Art Students League in New York, and Chicago Art Institute, Chicago.

Many of his paintings have been exhibited in national exhibitions including the National Academy of Design; and have received various awards from honorable mention to first prize.

Explorers Make Trip

Explorers of Scout Troop 77 recently camped out on Mohonk Mountain with their leaders William Morris and Arthur Buchard.

This was a type of survival two-day hike in that no other equipment was taken other than sleeping bags and rations for four meals. The Explorers endured all kinds of weather conditions.

Explorer Scout Irving Ackerman became trapped on a ledge when a stone dislodged and injured his ankle which prevented him from climbing back to safety. He had already climbed 350 feet, and escape to the lower ground was impossible. A rope was secured that would reach to the ledge in which Mr. Morris tied Mowline hitches and Mr. Bouchard lowered the rope to Ackerman, and with the aid of the other scouts they brought the trapped scout to safety.

Cave exploring was another activity which the boys participated in. Here, too another anxious situation existed when two of the boys became entrapped. But they soon freed themselves and decided never to roam again in the deep, dark crevices.

The weekend was one in which Explorers made good use of their training in rescue and survival work.

Holy Name Schedule

At a recent regular meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz, a schedule of events for the 1962-63 year was announced.

Dec. 10th, Father Charles Koerber, professor at Mt. St. Alphonsus, Redemptorist Seminary, will speak on the history of the Protestant faith. A film, Operation Abolition will be shown on Jan. 14 and an open forum will be held.

Plans call for the showing of two films Strange Gods and Africa, Continent of Promise on Feb. 11.

Members will conduct a retreat at Mt. Alvernia Seminary, Wappingers Falls, March 22. Father and son night and the husband and wife dinner are scheduled to take place on April 22 and May 12 respectively.

Edward Lee presided at the meeting with Father Koerber as guest speaker.

Ambulance Campaign

The New Paltz Fire Department announces to the residents of the Town and Village of New Paltz that the ambulance fund drive is approaching. If for some reason a resident is not at home when a fireman calls, or does not receive one of their cards contributions may be mailed to Phillips Jewelers, 54 Main Street; Peter Savago, Insurance, 101 Main Street, or Timothy Collins, 10 Mohonk Avenue.

Argiro Is Speaker At C of C Meeting

It has been announced that Larry Argiro spoke to the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting recently on the advantage and need of good planning for the future of New Paltz.

Argiro showed slides with his talk which depicted many of the beauty spots and natural resources that New Paltz now has to offer. He also showed pictures of undesirable scenes from other communities which had grown rapidly without proper planning.

Argiro pointed out that the rapid population growth which New Paltz is undergoing, already ten per cent increase since January this year, stresses the need for planning now before the situation gets out of hand.

Available to New Paltz is a program called the Master Plan which includes a survey of our problems, growth and future needs, also including planning maps. Five-sixths of the cost of this plan would be financed by the state and federal governments. The remaining one-sixth of the cost would be divided between the village and the town. If this plan is to be considered there is no obligation that its results and recommendations be used. We could utilize all, part or none of it.

Argiro has expressed his thanks to the following persons for the use of their colored slides: Mrs. Irma DeWitt, Mrs. Ruth Smiley, Robert Pyle, Morris Rosenfield, Henry Heisenbittel, and the State University College.

Bud — How can you tell?
Tom — He won't let me pass!

Success is getting what you want; happiness is wanting what you get.

Once, on a ship, a man fell overboard. A minute later the crowd saw another man go in. After a long struggle, the second man saved the drowning man. The crowd was surprised to find that the rescuer was an old man, but they gave him a big party that night anyway. At the party someone asked the rescuer to give a speech, so the old man stood up and said:
Old Man — I don't want to make a speech, but there is one thing I would like to say. Who was the fool that pushed me over-board?

"I've got an idea—let's start a rumor about somebody!"

Some people summer in the country; others simmer in the city.

On a warm domestic note, there was the man who appeared in court to complain that he had been awakened in the middle of the night to find his wife pouring gasoline over him.

Judge — And what, did you think your wife was planning to do to you?

Man — Well, your honor, I'm afraid she was trying to make a fuel out of me.

Listen, chum; take heed, old pal: Don't dance a square with a round-heel gal.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of businessmen have the feeling that some of the old rules of the game are being changed. Like it or not, they'll have to adjust.

And the same could well apply to workers, investors, savers, debtors, and in time to consumers—which is to say to everybody.

Making money may be a different proposition from now on than during the 17 years since the end of World War II. During most of that time profits rose, personal incomes went up even faster, the cost of living climbed—all of this almost automatically.

Has that era ended? Is a new one starting, with new rules to be learned, new dangers to be overcome? Businessmen who complain of the squeeze on profits are saying today that it has. Earnings no longer start automatically with sales volume. Management blames still rising production costs, high taxes, price weakness. Many see in this year's gyrations of the stock market evidence that the era of inflation is over, that stock prices now are tied closer to individual company performance and prospects.

Here are some of the factors that have brought on the era of the profit squeeze, and some that may guide management in dealing with it in the changing business climate:

Production costs have climbed steadily as wage scales rose each year. Until recently the cost of most industrial materials has gone up annually. The cost of transportation and distribution, and the increasing number of services required along the way from producer to consumer, still tends to increase.

That is one part of the squeeze. For years, the prices of finished goods themselves rose, too. And there was no squeeze.

But today it's hard to raise prices. And here's why:

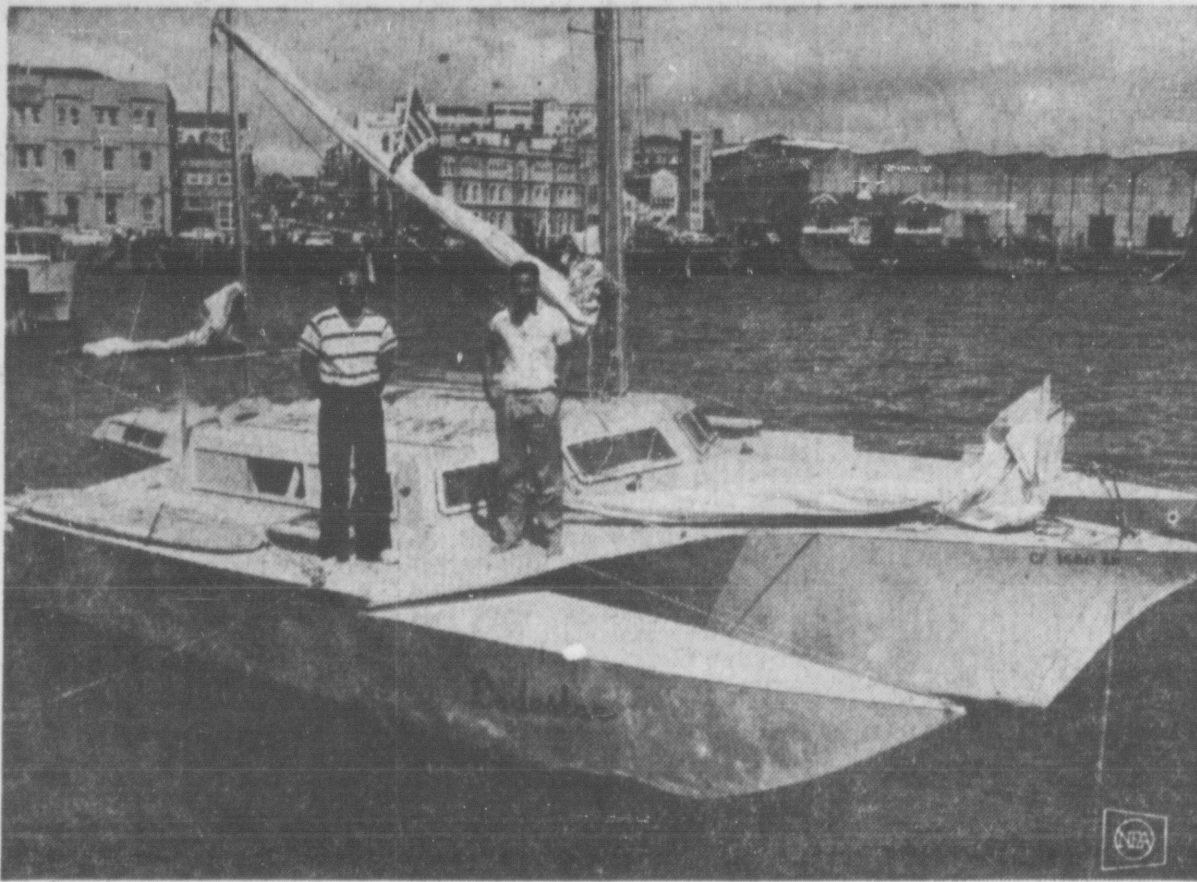

During the easy profit years, many fields became crowded with new firms wanting in on a good thing and old ones diversifying for the same reason. Today these fields often seem overcrowded. The competition is keen, and one company can't raise prices because his rivals won't. In more than one industry there's idle capacity that could be put to work—if there were any profit in it. And complicating all this is the sudden spurt of foreign goods turned out by industries built up after the war and now looking for more markets.

Finally, there are new guidelines laid down by the federal government, designed to discourage general price increases or inflation brought on by labor demands that Washington might label excessive. Management got the word from government in the squabble over the steel price hike attempt last April. Many in management still are skeptical about how the guidelines will work with labor.

The profit squeeze gives today's economy a new look in two ways. Labor-management negotiations will be tougher—if prices can't rise, management will be slow to grant new wage hikes. And if profits are held down, companies will find it harder to raise funds to modernize plants or build new ones. This could mean fewer new jobs, as well as loss of markets at home and abroad to foreign competitors.

And a third factor—the role of government in business decisions, in labor negotiations, in consumer goods pricing will be greater and more evident in the new era.

TRIMARAN TRAVELER—San Francisco publisher Arthur L. Piver, left, stands on deck of the Lodestar, a 35-foot trimaran, in the harbor at Auckland, New Zealand, after a 10,000-mile, two-month voyage with two crewmen across the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco via Hawaii and Tahiti. Designed and built by Piver, the Lodestar is powered only by sail except for a small outboard motor used for entering and leaving port areas.

Mickey Still Hoping For Reconciliation

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield says she now isn't so sure about divorcing musician Mickey Hargitay after all.

"He's still hoping for a reconciliation," she said after a telephone conversation with her estranged husband on Saturday. "That's why I'm in no hurry to go ahead. It may be a couple of months before I decide."

Exams Announced By Civil Service

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for the following:

Corrective therapist, occupational therapist, and physical therapist, for filling positions paying from $5,035 to $6,675 a year in Veterans Administration installations throughout the United States (except Hawaii and Alaska) and in Puerto Rico.

To qualify, applicants must be graduates from schools specializing in the field of work for which they wish to apply, and have completed the clinical affiliation requirements prescribed by the school. In addition, for positions paying $5,540 and above, they must have had appropriate professional experience. Full information concerning the requirements is given in Announcement No. 290 B. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Offset duplicating press operator, for filling positions paying from $2.28 to $2.84 an hour; lithographic offset pressman, paying from $3.06 to $3.39 an hour; and offset pressman (large presses), $3.89 an hour.

The positions to be filled are in the Government Printing Office, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and other Federal agencies in Washington, D. C. Further information is given in Announcements 291 B and 292 B. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Civil service examination announcements and application forms may be obtained from Leo Darwak at the Main Post Office here or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Central Would Abandon Station At Rhinecliff

The Transportation Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce is very anxious to hear from businesses and individuals who make use of the Rhinecliff station of the New York Central Railroad and would be adversely affected by its closing.

The railroad has applied to the Public Service Commission for permission to abandon the Rhinecliff station. A public hearing has been called in Rhinebeck on December 13, on the petition, at which the local Chamber of Commerce will be represented.

In making this announcement today Alex Embree Jr., chairman of the Chamber's Traffic and Transportation Committee, stated that specific information from people and businesses using the services of the railroad, at Rhinecliff, is needed in order to present evidence as to why the station should remain open in the best public interest.

"Unless we get letters and cards from businesses and individuals who use the station, and would be inconvenienced by its closing, we cannot build a strong case."

"It is especially important," Embree continued, "that we hear from people who use the railroad service from Rhinecliff fairly regularly. The railroad and the Public Service Commission discount evidence presented if the service is used only once or twice a year by anyone. Unless we can present specific information obtained from individuals, our appearance at the hearing cannot be effective."

It is suggested that anyone concerned with the closing of the Rhinecliff railroad station write to the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, and provide information as to the use of this station and how frequently. Specific dates of use or inconvenience suffered because of lack of service would be desirable. Other suggestions as to data which might be presented at the hearing would be welcomed.

Faulty Vision Statistics Are Given by Doctor

PHILADELPHIA — Nearly 40 per cent of all workers have vision shortcomings which can result in injury to the worker or damage to industrial equipment, it was revealed by Vision Conservation Institute, Inc., non-profit organization.

Optometric research in the past year has found that some 30 per cent of the average industrial workers need some correction of their vision, and an additional 9.5 per cent who need correction have never had their eyes examined professionally.

Dr. Herman Z. Kudon, of Albany, N. Y., president of the national public service and research organization, issued the report in conjunction with the observance of Industrial Vision Month.

He said an optometric study of the printing industry, for example, found that some 25 per cent of the men who work the presses have faulty depth perception or lack the ability to judge the distance of a press plate approaching or moving away. Also the VCI research found that 55 per cent of those who feed paper into presses had faulty depth perception as did nearly 50 per cent of those working in the paper cutting room.

"This is the reason for so many accidents in the pressroom," said Dr. Kudon.

In other industries, such as textiles, metal fabricating, etc., the percentage of faulty vision among workers were roughly the same as in the printing industry.

The answer is for industry to provide regular vision screenings for their workers, said Dr. Kudon.

Sees Socialism In Medical Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska says the Kennedy administration's plan for medical care for the aged is a form of socialized medicine.

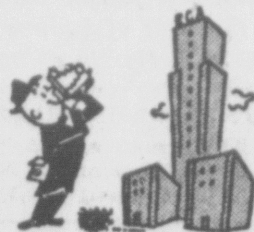

The administration's Anderson-King bill would be a poor substitute for the Kerr-Mills law now in effect in 28 states, Curtis said Sunday at a medical services conference sponsored by the American Medical Association.

The Nebraska Republican told the conference that the designers of the Anderson-King legislation "knew well it was only a beginning and that they intended to inaugurate a complete program of government medicine."

The proposed Anderson-King bill would pay hospital costs for all persons over 65, regardless of need.

Only persons over 65 who are "near needy" are eligible for benefits under the Kerr-Mills law, passed by Congress in 1961.

Caroline 5 Today, John Jr. to Get In Party Act Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caroline Kennedy is 5 today and there'll be a double-barreled birthday party in the White House.

Brother John Jr. was 2 on Sunday but was unable to go to Cape Cod with the rest of the First Family for a long Thanksgiving weekend because he had a cold.

The word from the White House today is that he'll be able to go to the birthday party.

If it's anything like last year, a lot of fun and surprises are in store for the President's children and their friends.

Mrs. Kennedy won't let word out on plans for the celebration. It's a private affair for the youngsters.

Likely to join in the festivities are some 20 youngsters who attend nursery school with Caroline on the third floor of the White House. John Jr. has some friends of his own, too. His playmates, children of friends of Mrs. Kennedy, may also be on the birthday invitation list.

Barber Shop Quartet To Be Featured at Gay Nineties Night

The Women's Guild for Christian Service of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will sponsor a Gay Nineties Night Wednesday 8 p. m. at the church.

Featured entertainers will be the Kingston Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America Inc. There will be refreshments.

The local barber shop singing group was organized in 1956 and is one of the 600 throughout the United States and Canada with a total membership exceeding 29,000 men.

The local chapter now has a membership of 40 from Kingston and surrounding areas. Directed by Ron Gibbons, the chorus has made many appearances for local organizations including Lions Club for the Blind, Community Chest, American Legion, Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association. They perform for patients in the Ulster County Infirmary and Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital.

Each fall the chapter sponsors a Harmony Night program for the benefit of the Kingston High School scholarship fund and annually awards a scholarship to a worthy student interested in furthering their musical education. In the spring of 1963 the chapter will host the Northeastern District Contest and Convention where all district quartets may compete for the privilege of representing the district in international competition in Toronto in June, 1963.

Officers of the Kingston chapter are George Styles, president; Paul Kauffman, first vice president; Tom Seche, second vice president; Bill Lahl, secretary and Bob Polachich, treasurer.

No News Conference
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. He met with newsmen last Tuesday evening, his first news conference in 10 weeks.

MRS. ROBERT GREENE

Eastern Star Group Honors Its State Musician; Reception

A reception for Right Worthy Sister Mary Greene, who was recently appointed Grand Musician of Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, New York State, was held Friday, Nov. 16, by Kingston Chapter No. 155 OES. Right Worthy Sister Greene attended high school in Lyons Falls, N. Y., graduating in 1942. She then attended Crane Institute of Music in Potsdam. For the past few years she has done substitute organ work in Kingston and is presently serving as organist of the Reformed Church in Port Ewen. She joined Kingston Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star in 1956 and served as its matron in 1961 with her husband, Worthy Brother Robert Greene, as her patron.

At the meeting, Right Worthy Sister Greene, carrying an old fashioned bouquet of Mums from the chapter, was presented by her husband, A degree, "Sentimental Journey," was offered by the officers. In evidence in the East was a map showing the 40 places Right Worthy Sister Greene will visit this coming year. Sister Nancy Burr sang "Sentimental Journey," accompanied by Worthy Sister Pansy Hudler, Sisters Joan Yochmann and Frances Dedrick, dressed as train porters and carrying various sized suitcases, danced to "Choo, Choo, Choo Boogie." The degree was climaxed by the presentation of a leather music portfolio from the officers and a gift from the chapter. The degree was written by Worthy Sister Helene Edwards and the drill by Right Worthy Sister Beatrice Strobel. A bouquet of red roses from Rondout Lodge No. 343 was presented by Worthy Brother William Evans. Sister Jeanne Johnston gave all the officers the chrysanthemum corsages they wore during the evening. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

An Unreasonable Demand

Q: At my son's request, I invited his girl friend to visit us for several days. We live a little over a hundred miles from where she does. For my son to go by car to pick her up would mean a three-hour drive one way and so when I wrote to her I suggested that she come by bus and that my son would meet her at the bus terminal. The girl wrote back and said that her mother would not let her accept the invitation unless my son came for her as she did not think it proper for her to go alone. As my son was anxious to have her come and visit us he drove down and picked her up. I feel that her mother was most unreasonable and that it would have been entirely proper for her to come alone on the bus. Will you please give me your opinion on this matter?

A: I agree with you that it was very unreasonable on the part of the girl's mother to insist on your son's driving a total of six hours to pick up her daughter and drive her to your house. She could quite properly have come by bus and had your son meet her at the bus terminal.

Paying Attention During Conversation

Q: Is it impolite not to look at a person all the time he or she is talking to you?

A: You are certainly expected to pay attention to the person you are talking with but this does not mean that you have to look at him or her with a fixed stare and never glance anywhere else.

Serving Dinner Without A Maid

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to remove used plates from the table when there is no maid? A friend of mine always scrapes any food left on the plates into one plate and then stacks the dirty dishes one on top of the other and removes them all at the same time. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

A: Food must not be scraped off plates in the presence of guests. The plates are removed two at a time, one in each hand. (A Bell Syndicate Feature)

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Looking at the new movies—

This is the season of the long sit. Film companies bring out their most important product this time of year to catch the holiday trade and the Oscar deadline. Somehow the studios equate length with importance.

A movie needn't be long to be good. Some of the all-time greats ran a mere 90 minutes. But nowadays the norm is two hours, and epics like "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "The Longest Day" are allowed to stretch to three hours. Upcoming: "Lawrence of Arabia" at three hours and 40 minutes.

"Long Day's Journey Into Night" is another three-hour film, but in this case the length seems warranted. It is needed for the cumulative effect of high tragedy, a rarity on the screen.

Not much happens in "Long Day's Journey." There is no plot, as such. The members of the Tyrone family prowl around their bleak summer house alternately stabbing at each other with vicious words and then quickly trying to bind the wounds.

They are a bedeviled four: the tightwad father, the dope-addict mother, the bum of an older son and the tubercular poet. In the hands of a Tennessee Williams it could be a sordid business. But the insight and word magic of Eugene O'Neill, whose family it was, give the family a tragic nobility.

"Period of Adjustment" is what you could expect when Tennessee Williams (that name again) writes a comedy. It is funny and it is bitter. The laughs appear despite the fact that most of the film is concerned with disagreeable people disagreeing disagreeably. And they aren't often big laughs, but they are there.

"Diamond Head" is old-style melodrama, complete with murder, family feuds, island dynasties and a hint of incest. The mixture is not totally convincing, but the plot keeps moving and the Hawaiian landscapes are appealing.

"Manchurian Candidate" struck me as the best shocker since "Psycho," both on emotional and intellectual levels. It is full of tricks and stunts and seems like a hastily packed trunk, dangling with loose ends. But it holds you beguiled for two hours, and what more can you ask of a movie?

"What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" If you don't know by now, you'd better go see the film and find out. It's "Sunset Boulevard" played for chills, most of which are more promised than produced.

Question—Our oil burner developed a defect and smoked up our walls badly. Have you any suggestions of how to treat walls before re-painting?

Answer—If you are worried about paint adhering to the walls, you are right to be concerned. Never paint over smoke or dirt of any kind. Wash your walls thoroughly and allow them to dry. Then apply the new DuPont Lucite Wall Paint in the desired color. You will have a perfect job. If you want a gloss or semi-gloss for your woodwork, DuPont has a companion paint called DuPont Duco that matches Lucite Wall Paint which is beautiful and durable. It also comes in white or oyster white for those who prefer contrasting woodwork in their rooms.

Two KHS Players Picked on All-DUSO Football Team

PAUL NATALE

TOM AURINGER

Natale, Auringer Receive Berths On Grid Squad

Middies Place Five On Team; Radivoy Is 'Player of Year'

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

End Paul Natale and half-back Tom Auringer are the Kingston High representatives on the All-DUSO Football team, Middletown, which swept to a second straight championship, placed five players on the first squad. The selections were made by members of the DUSO Sports Writers and Broadcasters Assn. yesterday at the Park Lane Restaurant in Port Jervis.

Joe Radivoy, the big Middle tackle, gains additional laurels as the "Player of the Year." Raivoy edged teammate Dick Collins and Nick Barber for the honors.

In addition to Radivoy and the two backfield aces, Middletown put end Bill Gray and guard Larry Myers on the first team. Myers beat Kingston's Jack Lewis by one vote in the closest balloting of the afternoon.

Guard Brian Seiber and tackle Larry Latini of Port Jervis, center Magill of Poughkeepsie and halfback Jim Hill of Newburgh complete the first team.

Kingston also has two representatives on the second team. Lewis at guard and Bob Kennedy in the backfield.

Top Defense Star

For the first time, a defensive player was picked on a first and second team basis. Bruce Rich of Middletown made the first team and John Sexton, the KHS defensive end, was the second team choice.

The all-star squad is a solid aggregation, blessed with speed and some bruisers up front. Natale and Gray were the best of a good crop of ends. Gray, at 6-5, the tallest player on the squad, caught many passes and also did the punting for the Middies.

He was superlative on defense. He was a standout all season long for Kingston and did his best job in the Thanksgiving Day victory against Newburgh.

Injuries stopped Paul from becoming a star in his junior year, but he made up for it this time. Radivoy is rated by many observers as one of the best tackles in the area. At 200 pounds, he has enough weight to keep the opposition honest. He's also very fast and was the leader of a line that yielded only two touchdowns in four league games.

Lattini was one of the few seniors on the Port Jervis squad. He was injured early in the year but still was a bearcat. Lattini was outstanding in the Port upset over Poughkeepsie.

Magill, though he tips the scales at only 168 pounds, was the best linebacker in the league. Though he missed a game, his all-around play in the other three engagements was outstanding and his choice for the first team was an easy one.

Unanimous Choices

The backfield selections were unanimous. Barber quarterbacked the Middies to the title. He passed well and strengthened what Coach John Whitehead thought would be a weak spot.

Auringer, the only junior in the backfield, was the big threat for the Middies. Dick led the league in scoring, despite the fact he missed a game because of an injury. Against Port Jervis on Thanksgiving, Collins gained better than 100 yards and also caught several passes.

Selected to the second team were ends Hardrick Moore of Poughkeepsie and Bob Brennan of Middletown, tackles John Seibert of Newburgh and Mike McConnell of Poughkeepsie, guards Lewis of Kingston and Lester Johnson of Newburgh and center Paul Hogenkamp of Port Jervis. Backs are Vince Monaco of Middletown, Joe Nolan of Port Jervis, Kennedy of Kingston and Hank Brown of Poughkeepsie.

Members of the first team will be honored at the annual awards dinner, sponsored by the Sports Writers and Broadcasters Assn., after the basketball season.

James K. Friwdo Yonkers Winner

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—James K. Friwdo, driven by Vernon Dancer, came from fourth at the three-quarter pole to win Monday night's feature $3,500 Pompano Pace by a length over Nevele Meadow before 18,743 at Yonkers Raceway. Time for the mile was 2 minutes, 52.5 seconds.

The winner returned $9.00 as second choice in registering his ninth victory in 32 starts. Alix Byrd had finished third but was placed fourth for running at the wire while lapped on. Fancy Gold had finished fourth and was placed third.

4th Straight Time

Whitehead Is Named DUSO Coach of Year

The man who brought Middletown out of the football doldrums and led them to the front of the DUSO League for the past two seasons has been named as "Coach of the Year" for the fourth straight time.

John Whitehead won the honors in a three way race with Joe Viglione of Port Jervis and Charles "Rip" Fornal of Newburgh.

Middletown swept through four league foes this season and was scored on only by Kingston. Whitehead coached his club to the title despite the fact he lost three of his top four backs from a season ago and also lost several key linemen.

Viglione was cited for winning and tying one league game with a green team that developed as the season progressed. He lost in the final balloting by one vote.

Fornal piloted Newburgh to a second place finish in the league, despite the fact fullback Charles Johnson, one of the top ball carriers for the Golden, was injured.

Whitehead will receive a plaque at the annual awards dinner, scheduled after the basketball season in Middletown.

Tony's, 50 Club Register Wins In 'Y' League

Tony's Pizzeria moved back into contention for A division honors with a 56-50 upset win over Wiltwyck School in the feature game of a YMCA Autumn Game League tonight last night.

In the other tilt, the 50 Club remained in first place in the B Division with an 82-39 triumph over Spada's Sport Shop.

A division standings:

Pioneer Cagers To Open Dec. 11

Poughkeepsie High School, a second place finisher in the DUSO Basketball League with a 10-2 record during 1961-62, will be a threat to dethrone Newburgh Free Academy as circuit champion this time around.

Coach Sam J. Kalloch has some of last year's cagers back and has also added Henry Brown, an All-DCSL first team selection as a sophomore, to his roster. The Pioneers open their season on Dec. 11 against Monticello.

Conro Bags 33rd Straight Deer, A 170-Pounder

Ulster County Identification Officer Earl Conro of Chichester has bagged his 33rd deer in 33 consecutive years of hunting. The remarkable feat is believed to be unprecedented in area hunting history.

The 33rd deer, incidentally, taken on Doubletop Mountain is the largest Conro has bagged locally in his many years of hunting. It was a tremendous 10-pounder.

Conro says it's his last deer. A year ago he decided to get "just one more" before resting on his laurels as the No. 1 deerhunter in the area. But his associates at the court house confidently expect that come November, 1963, Conro will again be on the trail in pursuit of No. 34.

Glenerie Club Bridge Results

Winning teams posted identical scores of 62½ per cent in the Glenerie Bridge Club's Fractional point tournament. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weinstein of Accord led the North-South and Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman of Hurley paced the East-West.

Other results were: North-South: Carol Sherman, Beacon-Hillden Rector, Poughkeepsie, 55 per cent; Dr. John Comstock, Kingston, and Ernest LeFevre, Hurley, 53 per cent; Marie Degenhardt-Earl Yohnell, Poughkeepsie, 51 per cent.

East-West: A tie for second place with 56 per cent between the teams of Joseph Mautner-Milton Dubin, Kingston; and Henry Bahret-John Chapman, Poughkeepsie; Gerald Griffin, Kingston, and Charles Hobbs, Poughkeepsie, 55 per cent.

The monthly Master Point game is scheduled tonight at 8 p. m. at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Cicade Repeats Two-Year Honors

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Christopher T. Chenery's Cicada, the 1961 2-year-old filly champion, won her second straight title today when she was named the best 3-year-old filly of 1962 by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations' board of selection.

The daughter of Bryan G. Satuson, bred by Chenery's Meadow Stud, was the unanimous choice of the 28 racing secretaries representing the TRA's 46 member tracks just as she was in taking the 2-year-old title a year ago.

NY Gives Power-Skowron For Top Hurling-Williams

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Yankees, two of baseball's powers, were squarely on the spot today following a daring major inter-league trade that sent first baseman Bill Skowron to the Dodgers in exchange for front-line pitcher Stan Williams.

Yankee manager Ralph Houk admitted he was loath to part with Skowron, 31, who helped bring seven pennants in nine years to the New York club. He said it was a trade the Yankees had to make.

"I felt we just had to get another established starting pitcher if we were to win the pennant again next year," he said. "Trading Skowron was one of the toughest decisions I ever had to make."

The 40-year-old Williams, 26, who won 14 games for the Dodgers last season, was the first move by Dodger general manager E. J. Bavasi, who had vowed to make changes on the club that blew the National League flag in a playoff after going into the final week with a four-game lead.

"We're not through trading by any means," Bavasi promised. "We're going to make a few more before the meetings are ended."

Bavasi hailed Skowron as "the guy who can supply us with the much-needed right-handed punch we lacked last year." Skowron slammed 23 home runs and drove in 80 runs last season.

Williams figures to team up with southpaw Whitey Ford and right-hander Ralph Terry, Bill Stafford and young Jim Bouton to form a five-man starting staff for the Yankees.

In a trade of much lesser impact, the Washington Senators sent Harry Bright, a catcher-first baseman, to the Cincinnati Reds for rookie first baseman Rogelio Alvarez. Bright, 33, a right-handed hitter, slammed 17 home runs and drove in 67 runs in 113 games for the last-place Senators.

Alvarez, 24, was the Pacific Coast League All-Star first baseman, where he hit .318, slammed 18 home runs and drove in 75 runs for the San Diego club.

The Los Angeles Lakers appear to have hit their stride and after six victories they were atop the National Basketball Association's Western Division standings today.

The Lakers disposed of the Chicago Zephyrs Monday night 128-106 in the only game scheduled and are one-half game ahead of the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks play Syracuse tonight, then move on to Los Angeles to meet the Lakers Wednesday.

New Paltz Cagers Set Opening Tilt Tonight

Action in the 1962-63 area schoolboy basketball campaign will get underway tonight as New Paltz Central, featuring a new coach and a young, aggressive team, plays at Tannersville. The Huguenots, who haven't been contenders for UCLAL honors on the hardwood the past few seasons, hope to make amends this time around.

Joe Helhoski, who coached the school's baseball club to a championship two years ago and was then called back into the service during the Berlin crisis, has returned and he'll handle the varsity cagers. Al Waterfield will be the jayvee coach.

Varsity lettermen returning from last year are Wade Burkhart, Pierre Shand, Wes Van-Vliet, Roger Longfield, Art Corwin, Clayton Whitted and Stu Glenn. Jayvees promised to varsity are Glenn Martin, Bruce McKinney and Mike Mostransky. Bruce McElrath and Tom Kennedy, a pair of transfer students, are also on the varsity squad.

"We have a lot of speed and some height but the boys have been working hard and have been aggressive during the practice sessions," Helhoski said. McKinney at 6-5, is the tallest player but he's a youngster and will need several games under his belt.

After tonight's opener, the Huguenots return to action on Friday when they play at Ellenville.

Some Notes to You

From WIBC Secretary

Only 21 women in WIBC's 46-year history have maintained averages of 200 or over. The highest ever held by a woman is 206, and this was accomplished three times—once by Floretta McCutcheon of Pasadena, Calif. during the 1938-39 season, and twice by Philadelphia's Sylvia Wene, during the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons. The highest three-game series rolled in sanctioned competition by a woman was the 781 scored by Angela Mica of St. Louis during the 1956-57 season. Oklahoma City's Jean Cowger rolled the second highest, a 799 series, during the 1959-60 season. Amy Scheidt of Arlington, Va., rolled a 1960-62 all-events score in the Virginia WBA tournament, the highest total (scratch) in any state tournament in the 1961-62 season. In the past 10 years, California women have rolled more 298, 299 and 300 games than any women in any other state. They have scored four 298, four 299 and seven 300 games. The seven perfect games also put California women in the lead in that department. . . . Stevie Balogh of Cleveland has scored four three-game series of 725 plus during the past 10 years, more than any woman. Three such series have been rolled by Ann Karrer of Philadelphia; Marge Kelch of Cleveland and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids. . . . Women bowlers from Illinois have topped more WIBC championships than those from any other state. Illinois women have won 66 championships—21 team, 18 doubles, 14 singles and 13 all events. Second winningest state is New York with 24 WIBC titles. Chicago women lead all others with 53 WIBC titles. Detroit is second with 15 titles.

Winning Records
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians compiled 11-7 records against the Yankees, Red Sox and Athletics in 1962. They were 10-8 with Detroit.

Lions, Villanova In Bowl Games

Penn State and Villanova have joined the rapidly expanding list of teams which have accepted bids to post-season college football bowl games.

Penn State (9-1), ranked ninth in the nation and best in the East, voted Monday night to play in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 29. Faculty representatives approved the team vote a few hours later.

Villanova (7-2) accepted a bid to be the host team in the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia, Dec. 15. An opponent was expected to be named today, with Oregon State the most likely choice.

Penn State players voted overwhelmingly to accept the Gator Bowl spot, their action coming only a few hours after the Nittany Lions had been named winner of the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the major college championship in the East.

Russian Cagers End U. S. Tour

DENVER (AP)—The latest Russian basketball invasion of the United States is over with the Soviet women boasting an 8-0 record and the Russian men a 4-4 mark.

A U.S. men's all-star team salvaged an even break in the series by whipping the Soviet national men's team 86-71 Monday night before 2,100 in the Denver Coliseum.

The husky Soviet women belted the Wayland, Tex. College Flying Queens 54-32. The doubleheader concluded the tour that started Nov. 8 in New York City. The Russian teams are returning to New York for a scheduled departure Wednesday for Moscow. Most of the Amateur Athletic Union players on the U.S. team are going to represent the United States next month in an international tournament in Manila but the Russians are not planning to participate.

Curtice Is Fired As Stamford Coach

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Cactus Jack Curtice, elected last year's president of the Football Coaches Association for his gridiron leadership, has been fired as Stanford head coach.

School authorities wouldn't comment, but The Associated Press learned Monday that the man who had known nothing but coaching success prior to coming to Stanford has been bounced after five years on the job.

An authoritative source revealed that Stanford authorities had decided to oust Curtice despite a 30-13 victory over arch foe California last Saturday that climaxed a 5-5 season, his best with the Indians.

Over-all, however, Curtice had won only 14 while losing 36 at the Stanford helm.

At Utah, West Texas State and Texas Western, Curtice compiled an 84-49 record.

Ellenville Wins Two HVBL Games

Veteran Frank Brink hammered out a 654 triple to lead Ellenville Channel Masters to a pair of wins over Sangi's Bowlers in a Hudson Valley League match Saturday.

Brink shot 191, 243 and 220. Don Jekler Sr. was high for the locals with 576. Sangi's won the second game 16-10 effort.

The scores:

Line Suit Dismissed

NEW YORK (AP) — A special three-judge federal court has dismissed a suit seeking an order for redrawing the boundaries of Manhattan's four congressional districts.

The plaintiffs had charged the Legislature segregated voters by race in redrawing district lines as a result of the last census. They charged that segregation was especially apparent in the Republican-controlled 17th, the so-called "silk stocking" district. In that district, they contended, the lines were drawn to "fence out" Negro and Puerto Rican voters.

The court voted 2 to 1 Monday to dismiss the suit, filed by nine voters backed by the New York County Democratic Committee. The suit involved the 18th, 19th and 20th districts as well as the 17th.

Nuclear Sherlock Holmes

Enlist Scientists In War on Crime

By JOHN A. BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic science, a super detective capable of sniffing out invisible, centuries-old clues, has been enlisted in the war against crime.

The American Nuclear Society heard a half-dozen reports today about this nuclear Sherlock Holmes which can spot the culprit in a shooting, trace narcotics and test the age of whiskey.

The technique has even been used to investigate what killed Napoleon.

One proof of its worth: by measuring the concentration of tritium, a radioactive form of hydrogen, the Internal Revenue Service can determine a whisky's real age.

In the past three years, according to a report offered by M. J. Pro, tax agents have checked 250 imported spirits, and found 95 per cent of the imports were labeled improperly.

In another report, Dr. Vincent P. Guinn of General Dynamics Corp. told of other techniques to expose the smallest traces of gunpowder on the hands of those who have recently fired weapons.

A sample smear is taken of a suspect's hand. Then a small amount of the washing is irradiated in an atomic reactor. The resulting radio-isotopes are studied by their fingerprints of radiation.

Scientists claim they can spot traces of gunpowder residues as small as 10 billionths of a gram.

By determining the amount, they can also get a measure of how often a gun was fired.

The FBI and a number of police departments, he said, are closely following the results of these experiments.

In Scotland, scientists examined a relic of Napoleon's hair and found evidence strongly indicating that arsenic poisoning—perhaps from medicine—contributed to the emperor's death in 1821.

Coastal Area Is Lashed by Winds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gale winds lashed Atlantic coastal areas today, with high tides from three to five feet above normal expected from Cape May, N.J., to Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Gale warnings were posted from Cape May to Daytona Beach, Fla. and small craft warnings were in effect from the New Jersey coast to Provincetown, Mass., and from Charleston S.C. to Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Weather Bureau warned of flooding in low-lying areas from Delaware to northern Florida. Wind gusts of 60 to 75 m.p.h. with heavy rain, swept Hatteras Monday, while Norfolk, Va., reported winds up to 61 m.p.h. The center of the storm was some 250 miles east of the Georgia coast.

The rough sea water destroyed about 250 feet of a temporary bridge between Avon and Buxton, N.C. Emergency ferry service was planned between Hatteras and Avon. Water splashed across highways all along the Nags Head-Kill Devil Hill section, but no major property damage was reported.

It was chilly in most of the Northeast and some cool air again dropped deep into the Southeast. Temperatures of freezing or below were reported in several areas in eastern Tennessee, and northern Georgia, with a low of 27 in Rome, Ga. In Florida, the mercury dropped to 48 in Miami, with lower marks in northern sections.

Logger Is Killed

CROGHAN, N.Y. (AP)—Gerald A. Henry, 49, of Castorland, was struck on the head and killed Monday by a heavy piece of chain thrown from under the wheel of a logging truck that was stuck in mud.

Lewis County sheriff's deputies said Henry, a logger, has placed the chain under the wheel to give it better traction. When another logger tried to move the truck, the chain flew out and hit Henry.

The accident occurred on a wood lot about six miles north of here.

New York Central Discontinues Two Railroad Towers

With completion of a 21-mile stretch of electronically controlled double track from Poughkeepsie to Barrytown, two New York Central Railroad towers have been discontinued, a railroad spokesman reports.

The towers are near the Dutton Lumber Company property and off Tulip Street in downtown Poughkeepsie. The railroad's line from Croton-on-Hudson to Barrytown, a distance of 60 miles is controlled by a train dispatcher seated at a small console in the railroad's New York headquarters.

High speed crossovers, located at frequent intervals, enable the dispatcher to move fast express trains around slower freights or give preference to the Central's famous "name" passenger trains. Under the old system dispatchers could move trains from one track to another only at great intervals and then by the slow method of issuing train orders.

Army Will Draft 20,000 by June

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the next six months draft calls will be raised to add 20,000 to the Army's ranks by June 30.

The Defense Department authorized Monday the temporary increase in the Army's manpower from the previously planned 960,000 to 980,000.

The increased, an announcement said, is intended to help offset the loss of trained personnel as the service of draftees called up in the Berlin crisis buildup a year ago expires.

The draft quota for this month is 4,000. For December it is 6,000. An increase in monthly quotas up to 8,000 appears possible.

The high point in draft calls during the Berlin crisis came in September 1961 when the quota was 25,000.

Gives Drowning Verdict

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A certificate of accidental death by drowning was issued Monday after the body of Bruce A. Short, 50, was pulled from Buffalo harbor.

Arthur G. Elsaesser, an Erie County medical examiner who issued the death certificate, said the body had been in the water more than a week. It was found floating in the water.
